Report Slackening Of Red Assaults In Tay Ninh Area

SAIGON (AP) — Two small skirmishes were reported on the fringes of Tay Ninh City today, and enemy troops ambushed a U.S. convoy farther out, but U.S. advisers said it appeared that enemy forces had pulled back for the moment.

The fighting was reported on the southwestern and southeastern edges of the city as 2,000 South Vietnamese paratroopers and Marines swept through areas that Viet Cong and North Vietnamese infiltrators had occupied Wednesday.

South Vietnamese military headquarters in Saigon said: "The situation is now calm in Tay Ninh City. There is no major fighting."

Enemy troops opened up with small arms on a convoy from the U.S. 25th Infantry Division six miles to the south along route 22, the major highway leading from Tay Ninh to Saigon, 45 miles to the southeast.

The Americans returned the fire with machine guns atop armored personnel carriers. Fourteen enemy soldiers and one American were reported killed in the brief fight. Another five U.S. soldiers were wounded. Two trucks, an armored personnel carrier and a helicopter were slightly damaged, a U.S. spokesman said.

Meanwhile, the allied command in Saigon reported that U.S., South Vietnamese and enemy casualties all dropped sharply last week, reflecting a slowdown in ground action after two weeks of intensified fighting. American casualties were 195 killed and 1,400 wounded, about half the total reported the week before.

One U.S. adviser at Tay Ninh force has withdrawn "but he may have withdrawn only a short way or into a different area." He can come right back.

Roundtown

ROUNDTOWN will not run in the Little Brown Jug Sept. 19 at Delaware. Roundtown is John Fissell's Jug eligible three year old pacer.

But Fissell reports he will not make the final payment in the world-famous race. One of the reasons Roundtown will not race is that Fissell has asked to be one of the two patrol judges at Delaware and he can't be a judge and have an entry in the race. It is the first time there have ever been patrol judges at the one-half mile Grand Circuit track. The other patrol judge is Herman Brickell.

Bob Steele, business manager of Scioto Downs, will be the presiding judge and George (Pug) Hood and Bob Agner will serve as associates.

WORKERS of R.L. Polk and Co. are currently soliciting the Circleville and Pickaway County area for advertising and listings to be published in the new city-county directory. Chamber of Commerce officials are asking residents to co-operate with solicitors in providing information needed for the directory. Handling ad sales is W. L. Young and soliciting personal data in residential areas is Mary Lowery, both representatives of R. L. Polk and Co.

Canoeists Reach Auglaize County

ST. MARYS, Ohio (AP)—The two canoeists making a trip from Cincinnati to Delphos via sections of the old Miami-Erie Canal to help publicize Delphos' first annual Old Fashioned Canal Day program, arrived in this Auglaize County town today.

Dan Harpster, 25, and Marvin Breneman, 25, both of Delphos, used rivers and streams for part of the journey here but expect to use the old canal the rest of the way to Delphos, about 30 miles away.

They were to arrive in Delphos Saturday afternoon.

U.S. Studies Possible New Berlin Squeeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top U.S. officials say they lack any firm evidence that the Soviet Union intends to start trouble over Berlin, but they are on alert for such a move because of U.S.-Russian tension.

Attention was focused on Berlin when President Johnson in a speech Tuesday warned the Soviet Union that "the use of force and the threat of force will not be tolerated in areas... like Berlin."

The officials described Johnson's statement as a precautionary action. "There is no hard indication of any Soviet move to put the squeeze on West Berlin," one official said.

"But it's a constant apprehension any time anything happens to sour relations between the United States and the Russians. It's a very easy place for them to cause us trouble. It is something they can turn on and off."

There has been speculation in certain Pentagon quarters that the Russians might choose this time to apply new pressure on the United States, Britain and France to weaken their hold in West Berlin.

This speculation grows out of worsening U.S.-Russian relations resulting from the Soviet Union's occupation of Czechoslovakia and an attendant Warsaw Pact military building in Eastern Europe.

The Western allies maintain only a small military presence in Berlin which is separated from West Germany by 100 miles of Communist-controlled land. The U.S. force numbers only about 3,500 men.

The Russians and East Germans have put the heat on West Berlin several times over the past few years, with the most serious threat occurring in 1961.

At that time, President John F. Kennedy mobilized 148,000 U.S. military reservists and reinforced American units in Germany with 40,000 additional troops. That crisis lasted about a year.

Although the United States has expressed deep concern about developments in Czechoslovakia, all signs indicate there will be no immediate reinforcement of American troops in Europe.

Over-all U.S. armed strength in Europe totals some 300,000 men, with about 200,000 of these deployed with the 7th Army in Germany.

Military authorities said they doubt that the United States will send back to Europe the 33,000 Army and Air Force troops brought home gradually since last spring in action aimed at cutting the U.S. balance of payments deficit.

These officials forecast steps to improve the readiness of U.S. forces already in Germany and to increase the preparedness of Air Force transport units to fly reinforcements from the United States to Germany, if this should become necessary.

OU President Sets Resignation

ATHENS, O., (AP) — Vernon R. Alden, Ohio University president, said today he will resign next June.

He will become chairman of the board and chairman of the executive committees of The Boston Co., Inc., and the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Co.

The announcement came at the regular September meeting of the school's board of trustees. Alden, completing his seventh year at the university, led the institution during its most rapid growth.

He came to the university in 1962 from the post of associate dean of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration where he had been for 12 years.

nominee, said today the very fact that tensions have increased among the superpowers shows a need for ratifying the treaty and building other East-West bridges.

"For if nations shall finally be unable to build bridges between each other in year 23 of the nuclear age," Humphrey said in prepared remarks in Wilmington, Del., "I cannot hold much hope for the future either of ourselves or of the human family."

Nixon said in Charlotte, N.C., he favors the nuclear nonproliferation treaty although he has reservations about some of its provisions and "I hope that it can be universally adopted."

Floor Fight On Gun Control Is Predicted By Senators

Pueblo Skipper 'Admits' Spying

TOKYO (AP) — North Korea said that the captain of the U.S. intelligence-gathering ship Pueblo admitted to foreign newsmen today that his vessel was "deep" inside North Korean waters when it was captured on Jan. 23.

The North Korean Central News Agency said Capt. Lloyd M. Bucher told the visiting newsmen the Pueblo has "full technical equipment for espionage activities and intruded several times into the territorial waters of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea to commit espionage activities."

It said Bucher made the remarks in answer to questions put to him during a news conference held for foreign newsmen in North Korea for the Communist regime's 20th anniversary celebration. It was the first time any of the American crew had been questioned by foreign newsmen.

Twenty of the Pueblo's 81 other crewmen appeared with Bucher at the news conference, the North Koreans said.

Bucher reportedly said the ship's crew confessed to their "grave crimes" and asked the North Koreans to "pardon them and deal with them leniently."

A letter sent to President Johnson in March, which the North Koreans claimed was signed by Bucher and his crew also admitted that the Pueblo was in North Korean waters when it was captured and listed five geographic points at which it said the vessel had trespassed.

North Korea has said it will release the 82 Americans if the U.S. government admits the Pueblo violated North Korean waters and pledges to refrain from such intrusions. U.S. officials say they do not believe the ship crossed into North Korean waters and have proposed an investigation by a neutral party.

The North Korean agency said the news conference was attended by reporters from the left-wing American weekly The Guardian, Japan's Kyodo News Service, three Japanese dailies — Asahi, Yomiuri and Mainichi; L'Unita, the Italian Communist party paper; the Congressman, an Indian Socialist paper; PAP, the Polish news agency; Nepszabadsag, the Hungarian Communist party newspaper, and several correspondents from Africa.

The North Korean report gave no indication of the whereabouts of the 61 Pueblo crewmen who did not attend the news conference. An 83rd crewman was killed when the North Koreans seized the Pueblo off Wonsan.

Dodd, Tydings Lead Battle For Licenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The congressional fight on gun controls is resuming with the Senate facing a floor battle over efforts to require the registration of all guns and the licensing of their owners.

The Senate, opening debate on the matter today, has before it a measure that would ban the interstate mail order sale of rifles and shotguns.

The bill also would prohibit over-the-counter sale of such weapons in one state to residents of another state, unless their borders adjoined.

The bill, similar to one already passed in the House, however, does not contain proposals originally urged by President Johnson to require that all firearms be registered and all gun owners be licensed.

These controversial proposals were rejected by the House and the Senate Judiciary Committee when it considered the bill before Congress adjourned for the political conventions.

A floor fight for registration and licensing provisions was promised by Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., and others. Under a Tydings proposal, the states would be given a chance to handle registration and licensing before the federal government could take over.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, in a letter delivered to each senator in advance of the debate, appealed for support of the administration's proposal. "Those who quibble about the inconveniences of registration and licensing, knowing lives are at stake, cannot be much concerned about life or crime either," Clark's letter said.

The bill now before the Senate, with Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., as its chief sponsor, provides for controls on the sale of rifles and shotguns similar to those imposed on handguns in the omnibus crime control legislation passed by Congress earlier in the year.

A-Ban Pact Vote Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has again delayed consideration of the controversial treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons. Now the vote is scheduled for next Tuesday.

Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon's call for a delay in Senate approval dimmed prospects, meanwhile, that enough Republican votes would be available for the two-thirds needed for ratification.

Nixon endorsed the treaty in a statement issued in Charlotte, N.C., Wednesday but said ratification should be postponed until Soviet intentions in Czechoslovakia and elsewhere can be reassessed.

The new committee delay came earlier when a scheduled meeting fell one member short of a quorum of ten. The first committee delay came the day before when only six members showed up.

Rhodes Plans School Tours

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes will take his Task Force on Vocational and Technical Education on an inspection tour of vocational schools Friday.

The task force, appointed by Rhodes earlier this year to make recommendations for improving vocational training in Ohio, will eventually visit all existing vocational and technical training facilities in the state, the governor said.

The first stop scheduled today was the Eastland Joint Vocational School District in nearby Groveport. Then the group was to fly to the Springfield and Clark County Vocational School District, the Pioneer Joint Vocational School in Shelby and the Penta-County Vocational School in Perrysburg.

Probe Bribery In Hoffa Case

Witnesses Claim Attempts Made

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A special grand jury has been ordered to investigate charges that conspirators in three states have offered bribes to witnesses whose testimony sent Teamsters President James R. Hoffa to jail.

U.S. District Court Judges Frank Gray Jr. and William E. Miller ordered the probe Wednesday as a result of testimony by Walter Sheridan, a former Justice Department investigator.

Sheridan, who was with the Justice Department when the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., was attorney general, testified last month that efforts have been made to bribe Edward Grady Partin, a Baton Rouge, La., teamsters official, and Robert Vick, a former Nashville policeman.

Navy TFX Crash Kills Test Pilots

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP) — A U.S. Navy version of the $7-million swing-wing F111 fighter-bomber—manned by two civilians—crashed 90 miles off the California coast Wednesday. It was the second Navy F111B to go down. The Air Force has lost a half dozen of its F111A jets which developed from the controversial TFX program.

The S Mason Liner, a civilian ship in the area, reported sighting debris and an oil slick in the Pacific Ocean but no sign of survivors.

The plane was undergoing what the Navy described as a routine weapons test under control of Hughes Aircraft Co. The pilot was identified as Barton Warren and the engineer as Anthony A. Byland, both employees of the Hughes plant at Los Angeles.

Warren, during radio contact, gave no indication of trouble, authorities said.

A helicopter and other aircraft from the naval base crisscrossed the area until dark and resumed the search at dawn.

The Navy's version of the F111 is lighter than the Air Force's. It was designed for landing on an aircraft carrier. In both planes, the wings are swung back along the fuselage for supersonic flights.

Deer Creek Dam Dedication Set

Dedication of Deer Creek Reservoir will be 2 p.m. Sept. 21, on the site of the $20.8 million dam, according to Wayne E. Smith, dedication committee chairman.

GEN. CHARLES C. NOBLE

Main speaker for the ceremony is Brig. Gen. Charles C. Noble, director of civil works at the Corps of Engineers in the U.S. Army. The dedication will be handled by the Chambers of Commerce of Circleville, Mt. Sterling and Washington, C. H.

Also included in the ceremonies will be leading citizens of New Holland and Williamsport.

OIC Opposes Public Strikes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The president of the Ohio Information Committee told a committee of the Ohio Legislature studying public employee labor relations today that his group is "unequivocally, unalterably and vigorously opposed to public employee strikes."

Fred J. Milligan Sr., a Columbus attorney who heads the group, was the first witness at the hearing.

Milligan called his organization an "independent, nonpartisan corporation not for profit supported by 2,000 individuals and business establishments."

The organization has conducted a number of polls on political and other issues.

Williamsport. The dam, the first of seven to be built in the Scioto Valley basin, is located six miles northwest of Williamsport.

Gen. Noble, a 1940 West Point graduate, commanded an Engineer Combat Battalion during World War II, participating in several significant campaigns. After a stint with the Atomic Energy Commission at Oak Ridge and Washington, D. C., Noble served successively with the Army General Staff and with Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE) in Paris, France.

AMONG the many credits in his distinguished career, General Noble was Director of the Atlas D & E and Minuteman ICBM Construction program, directing the construction of more than a thousand ICBM facilities.

As Director, Southeast Asia Construction Division, in the Office of the Secretary of Defense, Noble was responsible for planning, programming and surveillance of all construction, world-wide, in support of the Southeast Asia conflict.

Noble received his Master's degree in Civil Engineering from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Crisp Air In Picture

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Crisp autumnlike weather with an abundance of clear skies covered much of the country east of the Rockies today and chilled parts of the Deep South as well.

Traces of drizzle, fog and clouds lingered over the eastern Great Lakes region. Chilly winds blowing off the lakes added to the end-of-summer flavor of the day.

Temperatures fell into the 50s or lower from the eastern slopes of the Rockies to the Middle Atlantic States. Readings in the 60s were confined to the Northeast and Florida.

Atlanta cooled down to the mid 50s after a low of 51 early Wednesday.

Light rain dampened scattered sections of the Pacific Northwest and extended eastward into California and southward into the Rockies.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 40 at Pellston, in northern Lower Michigan, to 94 at Needles, Calif.

Kingston Youth Dies In Crash In Ross County

3 Others, Including 2 Circleville Men, Hurt As Car Upsets

A Kingston area youth was killed when the car his brother was operating ran off the road and flipped into a creek 1.8 miles south of Route 35 on Route 138 in Ross County 2:10 p.m. Wednesday.

Pronounced dead on the scene by deputy coroner Dr. Donald Berling was Darrell (Pete) David Showalter, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hallie Showalter near Kingston. Cause of death was a crushed chest.

Driver of the car, Mack Showalter, 16, was treated and released in Chillicothe Hospital for lacerations of the head. Also injured were passengers Raymond and Ronald Hill, 378 Fourth Ave., Circleville.

Raymond, 21, was admitted to Chillicothe Hospital and is in fair condition today suffering from head and chest injuries. His brother Ronald, 19, was treated for head and back injuries and was released.

OFFICIALS at the Ross County Highway Patrol Post said Mack Showalter was driving the auto northbound on Route 138 and approached a downgrade left turn in the road.

The car went off the left side of the road, and veered back to the right. The vehicle struck a wire fence, ran over an embankment and flipped completely over into a creek.

Showalter was cited for failure to have a driver's license and reckless operation.

Darrell Showalter was born Oct. 28, 1944, in Frankfort. Besides his parents he is survived by six sisters, Mrs. Carolyn Hamton of Columbus, Doris, Sandy, Ruth Ann, Janet and Darlene of the home; two brothers, Mack and Charles of the home.

Services will be 2 p.m. Sunday in the Hill Funeral Home, Kingston, with burial in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 6:30 p.m. Friday.

Gulf Chief Killed

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — William K. Whiteford, 67, board chairman of Gulf Oil Corp. since 1960, was killed Wednesday night in an auto accident near his estate. Whiteford worked his way to the top of the industry after starting in 1923 as an oil field roustabout in California.

Humphrey, Nixon Clash Over Nuclear Ban Treaty

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Presidential candidates Richard M. Nixon and Hubert H. Humphrey clashed head-on today over prompt Senate ratification of the multination treaty against spread of nuclear weapons.

Nixon, the Republican candidate, endorsed the treaty in a statement Wednesday but said Senate ratification should be delayed until Soviet intentions in Czechoslovakia and other European nations can be reassessed.

Humphrey, the Democratic nominee, said today the very fact that tensions have increased among the superpowers shows a need for ratifying the treaty and building other East-West bridges.

"For if nations shall finally be unable to build bridges between each other in year 23 of the nuclear age," Humphrey said in prepared remarks in Wilmington, Del., "I cannot hold much hope for the future either of ourselves or of the human family."

Nixon said in Charlotte, N.C., he favors the nuclear nonproliferation treaty although he has reservations about some of its provisions and "I hope that it can be universally adopted."

"The posture and intentions of the Soviet Union toward Czechoslovakia and other nations of central and western Europe can be reassessed at a later time to see whether circumstances will then justify our proceeding with ratification."

Nixon's statement on the treaty signed but not yet ratified in Washington, Moscow and London was distributed to newsmen as the candidate addressed Charlotte Piedmont College students on lawlessness.

"It's time for new men and new policies who will stop the rise in crime and also establish respect for law all over this country," he said. "I pledge that kind of leadership."

Humphrey asked said before Nixon's nuclear treaty statement was publicized that the vice president felt he had two good issues in the treaty and the controversial nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice and was trying to smoke Nixon out on them.

Humphrey, who has called in the past for debates with Nixon, said in New Orleans Wednesday he is willing to debate third party candidate George C. Wallace as well.

Both Wallace and Humphrey addressed the American Legion convention in New Orleans. Wallace—denouncing rioters and looters as "trash" and calling for military victory with conventional weapons in Vietnam if peace talks fail—got the better reception.

Wallace also announced his American Independent party will not hold a nominating convention because, he said, it takes "the armed forces of the country to hold one."

Republican vice presidential candidate Spiro T. Agnew said in Washington he is not going to turn his campaign into "a big Communist hunt" but expressed "surprise that there isn't more concern among the public"

The S Mason Liner, a civilian ship in the area, reported sighting debris and an oil slick in the Pacific Ocean but no sign of survivors.

The plane was undergoing what the Navy described as a routine weapons test under control of Hughes Aircraft Co. The pilot was identified as Barton Warren and the engineer as Anthony A. Byland, both employees of the Hughes plant at Los Angeles.

Warren, during radio contact, gave no indication of trouble, authorities said. A helicopter and other aircraft from the naval base crisscrossed the area until dark and resumed the search at dawn.

The Navy's version of the F111 is lighter than the Air Force's. It was designed for landing on an aircraft carrier. In both planes, the wings are swung back along the fuselage for supersonic flights.

Deer Creek Dam Dedication Set

Dedication of Deer Creek Reservoir will be 2 p.m. Sept. 21, on the site of the $20.8 million dam, according to Wayne E. Smith, dedication committee chairman.

Gen. Noble, a 1940 West Point graduate, commanded an Engineer Combat Battalion during World War II, participating in several significant campaigns. After a stint with the Atomic Energy Commission at Oak Ridge and Washington, D.C., Noble served successively with the Army General Staff and with Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE) in Paris, France.

AMONG the many credits in his distinguished career, General Noble was Director of the Atlas D & E and Minuteman ICBM Construction program, directing the construction of more than a thousand ICBM facilities.

As Director, Southeast Asia Construction Division, in the Office of the Secretary of Defense, Noble was responsible for planning, programming and surveillance of all construction, world-wide, in support of the Southeast Asia conflict.

Noble received his Master's degree in Civil Engineering from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Main speaker for the ceremony is Brig. Gen. Charles C. Noble, director of civil works at the Corps of Engineers in the U.S. Army. The dedication will be handled by the Chambers of Commerce of Circleville, Mt. Sterling and Washington, C. H.

Also included in the ceremonies will be leading citizens of New Holland and

OIC Opposes Public Strikes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The president of the Ohio Information Committee told a committee of the Ohio Legislature studying public employee labor relations today that his group is "unequivocally, unalterably and vigorously opposed to public employee strikes."

Fred J. Milligan Sr., a Columbus attorney who heads the group, was the first witness at the hearing.

Milligan called his organization an "independent, nonpartisan corporation not for profit supported by 2,000 individuals and business establishments."

The organization has conducted a number of polls on political and other issues.

Crisp Air In Picture

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Crisp autumnlike weather with an abundance of clear skies covered much of the country east of the Rockies today and chilled parts of the Deep South as well.

Traces of drizzle, fog and clouds lingered over the eastern Great Lakes region. Chilly winds blowing off the lakes added to the end-of-summer flavor of the day.

Temperatures fell into the 50s or lower from the eastern slopes of the Rockies to the Middle Atlantic States. Readings in the 60s were confined to the Northeast and Florida.

Atlanta cooled down to the mid 50s again after a low of 51 early Wednesday.

Light rain dampened scattered sections of the Pacific Northwest and extended southward into California and eastward into the Rockies.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 40 at Pellston, in northern Lower Michigan, to 94 at Needles, Calif.

Kingston Youth Dies In Crash In Ross County

3 Others, Including 2 Circleville Men, Hurt As Car Upsets

A Kingston area youth was killed when the car his brother was operating ran off the road and flipped into a creek 1.8 miles south of Route 35 on Route 138 in Ross County 2:10 p.m. Wednesday.

Pronounced dead on the scene by deputy coroner Dr. Donald Berling was Darrell (Pete) David Showalter, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hallie Showalter near Kingston. Cause of death was a crushed chest.

Driver of the car, Mack Showalter, 16, was treated and released in Chillicothe Hospital for lacerations of the head. Also injured were passengers Raymond and Ronald Hill, 378 Fourth Ave., Circleville.

Raymond, 21, was admitted to Chillicothe Hospital and is in fair condition today suffering from head and chest injuries. His brother Ronald, 19, was treated for head and back injuries and was released.

OFFICIALS at the Ross County Highway Patrol Post said Mack Showalter was driving the auto northbound on Route 138 and approached a downgrade left turn in the road.

The car went off the left side of the road, and veered back to the right. The vehicle struck a wire fence, ran over an embankment and flipped completely over into a creek.

Showalter was cited for failure to have a driver's license and wreckless operation.

Darrell Showalter was born Oct. 28, 1944, in Frankfurt.

Besides his parents he is survived by six sisters, Mrs. Carolyn Hamton of Columbus, Doris, Sandy, Ruth Ann, Janet and Darlene of the home; two brothers, Mack and Charles of the home.

Services will be 2 p.m. Sunday in the Hill Funeral Home, Kingston, with burial in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 6:30 p.m. Friday.

Gulf Chief Killed

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — William K. Whiteford, 67, board chairman of Gulf Oil Corp. since 1960, was killed Wednesday night in an auto accident near his estate. Whiteford worked his way to the top of the industry after starting in 1923 as an oil field roustabout in California.

Senate Group Accelerates Fortas Nomination Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators trying to block Abe Fortas' appointment as chief justice say the Senate Judiciary Committee decision to reopen hearings was a victory and will add new ammunition to their fight.

The more facts that are brought out, Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said Wednesday, the greater the opposition will be.

But the committee's decision to vote on Fortas' nomination next Tuesday at 11 a.m. after the reopened hearings also was hailed as a major breakthrough by Fortas' supporters who say they have the votes for approval.

The committee was awaiting word from Fortas, who has been vacationing in Connecticut, whether he will accept an invitation to reappear for the new hearings.

An Associated Press poll earlier this week showed that once the issue gets out of committee, 46 to 26 senators favor Fortas; enough for confirmation but not the two-thirds needed to cut off a threatened filibuster.

Subject of the reopened hearings will be opponents' allegations that Fortas has been improperly involved in executive and legislative matters since being named an associate Supreme Court Justice in 1965.

Fortas underwent four days of questioning at hearings in July, after President Johnson nominated him to move up and succeed retiring Earl Warren.

Also invited to testify at the new hearings were Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford and Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo.

Stock Market Goes Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly lower in active trading early this afternoon.

After a mixed and churning start in heavy trading with the ticket tape four minutes late, prices assumed a downtrend. The pace of tradings slowed as prices declined.

Losses outnumbered gains by more than 60 issues, reversing an early advantage for gainers. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 3.92 at 915.46.

The heavier trading was the usual result of the midweek market closings. Analysts say the downtrend in prices as a corrective move following the sharp rally in the immediate post-Labor Day period.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 4.4 at 339.7 with industrials off 2.0, rails up .7 and utilities up .2.

Prices remained generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Demo And GOP Campaign Tactics Rouse Discontent

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The early campaign techniques of the two major presidential candidates are causing some discontent among members of their own parties.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has been criticized by some Democrats for too often shooting from the hip on crucial matters. On the Republican side, Richard M. Nixon is said to be too complacent about winning the November election.

This assessment of the early tactics of the general election drive surfaced from a cross-section check of interested politicians not intimately connected with the campaigns of the two candidates.

Campaign officials generally are loathe to publicly discuss the tactics or prospects of their candidates, except in confident and laudatory terms.

But those politicians whose only stake in the campaign is a desire to see their own party win more often will give a candid assessment of what's happening.

For example, some Democrats not directly involved in the presidential campaign say Humphrey has been making too many statements, particularly on Vietnam, on which he has had to backtrack.

These same observers say the Democrats' No. 2 man, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, has been making a better impression on the voters than Humphrey.

On the Republican side there is comment that Nixon is being too vague about the issues, that he is trying to coast into the presidency in the manner that helped defeat the GOP's Thomas E. Dewey in 1948.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of

Kentucky, one of those Republicans willing to speak out on the subject, said he thinks there is more than a grain of over-confidence on the part of some of Nixon's advisers.

"Dick himself isn't over-confident," Morton said. "But I think some of the men around him are just a little too sure he is going to win the election and they are trying to keep him under wraps."

Release Of Navy Reservists Early May Bring Protests

WASHINGTON (AP) — In what may be a controversial move, the Pentagon is considering letting 30,000 Navy reservists off active duty early to save money this year, sources say.

If approved, the action will mean the release of many men who elected to serve two years active duty as part of a Navy reserve program fulfilling their military obligation.

It would not affect thousands of Army, Air Force and National Guard members who were activated—some against their choice—after North Korea seized the USS Pueblo last January.

Some Pentagon officials fear the proposed "early-out" plan will bring more criticism from members of Congress and activated reservists who complained they weren't really needed.

Only Wednesday, Rep. Richard Schweiker, R-Pa., called for an investigation of the Pentagon's reserve callups in February and April.

The Defense Department ordered up 14,800 reservists after the Pueblo incident, then activated another 24,500 in April following the enemy's Tet offensive in Vietnam.

While the January activation came in the heat of the Pueblo affair, many people including some reservists suspected the action was designed mainly to relieve Vietnam manpower pressures. Only two reserve air squadrons actually deployed to South Korea.

Pentagon officials are preparing to justify any release of the Navy reservists on grounds of economy. Congress has ordered sharp cuts in government spending and the Pentagon is supposed to slash costs by between $2 billion and $3 billion in the current fiscal year.

Gunfire Hits Summit, Ill. Police Cars

SUMMIT, Ill. (AP) — Police reported three Negro youths fired shotgun blasts at two patrol cars early today in this Chicago suburban community where the high school remained closed by continuing racial tension.

Two policemen were cut by flying glass and were treated at a clinic.

The youths escaped, officers said, after police dogs followed their trail to a railroad siding, then lost the scent.

Supt. James W. Lewis of Argo Community High School announced, meanwhile, that classes at the school were canceled again today because of continuing racial tension. Pupils were sent home Tuesday noon, and have not been back since, after an assembly called to ease tensions ended with 500 white and Negro youths fighting in school hallways.

More than 60 white youths were picked up by police Wednesday and given a lecture on racial fairness after they held a meeting in a forest preserve outside Summit. Sheriff's police believed the meeting was a white caucus to plan action at the high school, but the youths denied this.

A 1 p.m. to dawn curfew for persons under 17, imposed Tuesday, was lifted Wednesday. But police maintained strict enforcement of Summit's normal 9:30 p.m. to dawn curfew for juveniles.

The high school troubles stemmed from Negro student allegations of discrimination in school activities. Negroes comprise about 10 per cent of Argo's enrollment of nearly 2,000.

Portsmouth Man Jailed For Life

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Eugene Walker, 50, of Portsmouth was sentenced to life imprisonment Wednesday after he interrupted his first-degree murder trial to plead guilty to second-degree murder.

Walker was accused of fatally shooting Joe Austine, 41, during an argument last April 27. The prosecution agreed to permit Walker to plead guilty to the lesser charge just as a common pleas court jury was about to begin hearing testimony in the case.

Organ Concert Set For Sunday Evening

The Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, 310 E. Main Street, will present an organ concert Sunday at 7:30 p.m. under the direction of Charles Eversly of Columbus.

Everly has been an organist in Portsmouth and Marietta, and at the present time is organist at the Jewish Temple and St. Alban's Episcopal Church in Columbus. He is an organ teacher of considerable prominence in Columbus and is now in the process of reorganizing his program for a fall schedule of teaching. The public is invited to attend this concert.

Our enrollment this fall will be the largest in the twenty-year history of our college, which means we need more jobs than ever before.

If you have need of a young man or woman for part-time work whether clerical, janitorial or whatever, please call Rev. David Lattimer at 474-4977.

Thank you.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's chief economic adviser, calling car prices for 1969 models "one of the most crucial pricing actions in coming months," says manufacturers should exercise prudent restraint.

Arthur M. Okun, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, expressed the view Wednesday in a letter to Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., who had expressed concern.

Magnuson, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, said he had heard increases might be as much as $200 a car and said such increases would cost consumers close to $2 billion next year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has been told by the House Commerce Committee to delay for another year its plans to authorize subscription television on a nationwide basis.

The committee said Wednesday it asked the new delay because the Public Broadcasting Corp. has just recently been formed and "the pressures of legislation" will prevent committee action on the Pay-TV question this year.

It passed 16 to 13 a resolution saying the FCC should delay action until the end of the next Congress' first session, or until action is completed on legislation provided it is under consideration by then.

A similar one-year delay has been asked by the committee in November 1967.

Jersey Fights Encephalitis

SALEM, N.J. (AP) — An 81-year-old man has become the fourth person to die of encephalitis—the so-called "sleeping sickness"—in New Jersey this year.

The State Health Department reported Wednesday that Amos H. Baker of Hancock's Bridge died of the disease Monday in Salem County Memorial Hospital.

In 1959, an encephalitis epidemic swept through the state leaving 22 persons and 60 animals dead. So far this year, scores of horses have been stricken and more than 45 have died.

Mosquito commissions throughout New Jersey are continuing an intensive campaign to eradicate the insects that carry encephalitis.

Demo And GOP Campaign Tactics Rouse Discontent

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The early campaign techniques of the two major presidential candidates are causing some discontent among members of their own parties.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has been criticized by some Democrats for too often shooting from the hip on crucial matters. On the Republican side, Richard M. Nixon is said to be too complacent about winning the November election.

This assessment of the early tactics of the general election drive surfaced from a cross-section check of interested politicians not intimately connected with the campaigns of the two candidates.

Campaign officials generally are loathe to publicly discuss the tactics or prospects of their candidates, except in confident and laudatory terms.

But those politicians whose only stake in the campaign is a desire to see their own party win more often will give a candid assessment of what's happening.

For example, some Democrats not directly involved in the presidential campaign say Humphrey has been making too many statements, particularly on Vietnam, on which he has had to backtrack.

These same observers say the Democrats' No. 2 man, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, has been making a better impression on the voters than Humphrey.

On the Republican side there is comment that Nixon is being too vague about the issues, that he is trying to coast into the presidency in the manner that helped defeat the GOP's Thomas E. Dewey in 1948.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of

Kentucky, one of those Republicans willing to speak out on the subject, said he thinks there is more than a grain of over-confidence on the part of some of Nixon's advisers.

"Dick himself isn't over-confident," Morton said. "But I think some of the men around him are just a little too sure he is going to win the election and they are trying to keep him under wraps."

Release Of Navy Reservists Early May Bring Protests

WASHINGTON (AP) — In what may be a controversial move, the Pentagon is considering letting 30,000 Navy reservists off active duty early to save money this year, sources say.

If approved, the action will mean the release of many men who elected to serve two years active duty as part of a Navy reserve program fulfilling their military obligation.

It would not affect thousands of Army, Air Force and National Guard members who were activated—some against their choice—after North Korea seized the USS Pueblo last January.

Some Pentagon officials fear the proposed "early-out" plan will bring more criticism from members of Congress and activated reservists who complained they weren't really needed.

Only Wednesday, Rep. Richard Schweiker, R-Pa., called for an investigation of the Pentagon's reserve callups in February and April.

The Defense Department ordered 14,800 reservists after the Pueblo incident, then activated another 24,500 in April following the enemy's Tet offensive in Vietnam.

While the January activation came in the heat of the Pueblo affair, many people including some reservists suspected the action was designed mainly to relieve Vietnam manpower pressures.

Only two reserve air squadrons actually deployed to South Korea.

Pentagon officials are preparing to justify any release of the Navy reservists on grounds of economy. Congress has ordered sharp cuts in government spending and the Pentagon is supposed to slash costs by between $2 billion and $3 billion in the current fiscal year.

Gunfire Hits Summit, Ill. Police Cars

SUMMIT, Ill. (AP) — Police reported three Negro youths fired shotgun blasts at two Chicago suburban community where the high school remained closed by continuing racial tension.

Two policemen were cut by flying glass and were treated at a clinic.

The youths escaped, officers said, after police dogs followed their trail to a railroad siding, then lost the scent.

Supt. James W. Lewis of Argo Community High School announced, meanwhile, that classes at the school were canceled again today because of continuing racial tension. Pupils were sent home Tuesday noon, and have not been back since, after an assembly called to ease tensions ended with 500 white and Negro youths fighting in school hallways.

More than 60 white youths were picked up by police Wednesday and given a lecture on racial fairness after they held a meeting in a forest preserve outside Summit. Sheriff's police believed the meeting was a white caucus to plan action at the high school, but the youths denied this.

A 1 p.m. to dawn curfew for persons under 17, imposed Tuesday, was lifted Wednesday. But police maintained strict enforcement of Summit's normal 9:30 p.m. to dawn curfew for juveniles.

The high school troubles stemmed from Negro student allegations of discrimination in school activities. Negroes comprise about 10 per cent of Argo's enrollment of nearly 2,000.

Portsmouth Man Jailed For Life

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Eugene Walker, 50, of Portsmouth was sentenced to life imprisonment Wednesday after he interrupted his first-degree murder trial to plead guilty to second-degree murder.

Walker was accused of fatally shooting Joe Austine, 41, during an argument last April 27. The prosecution agreed to permit Walker to plead guilty to the lesser charge just as a common pleas court jury was about to begin hearing testimony in the case.

Sheridan said he had been offered $1 million to change statements he made while investigating the Hoffa case. Sheridan did much of the investigative work which led to Hoffa's 1964 jury-tampering conviction in Chattanooga.

Hoffa, who is serving an eight-year term at the federal prison in Lewisburg, Pa., was found guilty of tampering with the jury which tried him on a conspiracy charge in Nashville in 1962. The first trial, in which Hoffa was accused of conspiring to divert union funds, ended with a deadlocked jury.

Judges Miller and Gray also ordered the U.S. attorney's office and other federal agencies to launch an investigation into statements made by Sheridan and Earl Wingo, a former official of Nashville Teamsters Local 327 who also testified against Hoffa.

Crashes Kill 4 Ohioans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lorain, Ross, Van Wert and Hamilton County men were the latest victims of Ohio traffic. All died Wednesday.

The dead:

Darrell Shewalter, 18, Kings-ton, Ross County.

William C. Reynolds, 22, Elyria.

Burt Kesler, 96, Van Wert.

Frank Williams, 80, Taylor Creek, Hamilton County.

Shewalter died when a car in which he was a passenger left Ohio 138 about 15 miles west of Chillicothe and overturned in a creek.

Reynolds was killed when struck by an automobile on Ohio 57 near the Ohio Turnpike in Lorain County.

Kesler was killed when struck by an automobile at a downtown Van Wert intersection.

Williams died of injuries suffered in a one-car crash near his home.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's chief economic adviser, calling car prices for 1969 models "one of the most crucial pricing actions in coming months," says manufacturers should exercise prudent restraint.

Arthur M. Okun, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, expressed the view Wednesday in a letter to Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., who had expressed concern.

Magnuson, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, said he had heard increases might be as much as $200 a car and said such increases would cost consumers close to $2 billion next year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has been told by the House Commerce Committee to delay for another year its plans to authorize subscription television on a nationwide basis.

The committee said Wednesday it asked the new delay because the Public Broadcasting Corp. has just recently been formed and "the pressures of legislation" will prevent committee action on the Pay-TV question this year.

It passed 16 to 13 a resolution saying the FCC should delay action until the end of the next Congress' first session, or until action is completed on legislation provided it is under consideration by then.

A similar one-year delay has been asked by the committee in November 1967.

Jersey Fights Encephalitis

SALEM, N.J. (AP) — An 81-year-old man has become the fourth person to die of encephalitis—the so-called "sleeping sickness"—in New Jersey this year.

The State Health Department reported Wednesday that Amos H. Baker of Hancock's Bridge died of the disease Monday in Salem County Memorial Hospital.

In 1959, an encephalitis epidemic swept through the state leaving 22 persons and 60 animals dead. So far this year, scores of horses have been stricken and more than 45 have died.

Mosquito commissions throughout New Jersey are continuing an intensive campaign to eradicate the insects that carry encephalitis.

Jackie's Secretary Writes Autobiography

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "Nothing was without controversy. The kitchen could not even make a peanut butter sandwich without making someone up set."

Letitia Baldrige, former social secretary to Mrs. John F. Kennedy, made this observation about her White House job in a happy autobiography, "Of Diamonds and Diplomats," to be published by Houghton Mifflin Sept. 16.

Books relating to Mrs. Kennedy are not without controversy. Yet Miss Baldrige, now a housewife, mother and director of her own Chicago public relations firm, is confident the former First Lady will have no objection to this one.

Angered by the president's father Ambassador Joseph Kennedy, consoled by her own father, a veteran Republican congressman, and encouraged by Mrs. Kennedy, Miss Baldrige says she and her distaff staff nevertheless:

There was the President's problem with classical music. To keep him from applauding at the wrong time, Miss Baldrige said she worked out a door opening system to signify the end of a number.

There was, she writes, Mrs. Kennedy's duet in chic with the Iranian Empress Farah who had brought all her royal jewels to a White House visit. The First Lady won the game by dressing with stark simplicity, jewel-less except for a few sparklers on her ears and in her hair.

Navy Admits Drone Copters Proved $25 Million Failure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has acknowledged the loss of about $25 million worth of unmanned helicopters once given a significant role in antisubmarine warfare.

In response to persistent inquiries, the Navy acknowledged that 233 of the small, radio controlled drone choppers, called ASH, have been lost for various electronic, mechanical and human faults over the past seven years.

The major causes for the losses, which came in fleet operations, resulted from the failure of the DASHes aviation electronics system, the Navy said.

Under consideration now to replace the drones is a new, manned lightweight helicopter.

Four years ago, the Navy issued a "fact sheet" on antisubmarine warfare in which it listed the DASH among "significant achievements" in the field. At that time, the fact sheet described the drone helicopter as "a precise, deliberate, long range weapon delivery capability" to complement another antishub weapon, the ASROC. The ASROC is an antisubmarine missile which can be fired from Navy-surface craft and uses either an acoustic homing torpedo or depth charges.

Navy antisubmarine experts had high hopes for the DASH, which was designed to be sent out from destroyers after a "fix" was made on an enemy sub. The DASH would be ordered by radio to drop a pattern of torpedoes on the quarry.

The helicopter was built to carry 1,000 pounds of payload.

When the Navy was asked early this summer whether it was looking for a replacement for the DASH, it said no.

But now the Navy has changed its position and says a lightweight manned helicopter is being considered to supplant DASH.

The ID Problem

California's Department of Motor Vehicles will soon begin making official identification cards for people who need reliable identification and do not have driver's licenses.

The idea was conceived because of the growing importance of a driver's license as a trusted proof of identity for check cashing and other purposes.

Elderly people without licenses often have trouble cashing old age assistance or pension checks, etc.

The California plan, which will start on a voluntary basis but you know how such things develop, is one way to attack the problem — a better way might be to add enough information to social security cards to make them adequate for identification.

They could include a picture of the card's holder, along with number, signature, etc. They could, of course, also include a toeprint and a signature done by holding the pen between the toes.

The latter, it is contended, would be extremely difficult to forge, especially in the presence of a teller, etc.

Then a single, uniform ID card could serve all over the nation, if not the world.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans have paid farmers many billions of dollars in the past decade to cut back on production, which generally is more than the nation needs, but this year's harvest now seems likely to be the biggest ever.

As a result, still more tax money will be paid to curtail production next year. But will production fall in 1969? Very likely it will not. If it follows the trend, production again will be higher. And worried Washington will spend even more.

It is anomalies such as this that cause Americans to refer to the farm "problem." And it is a very complex problem. Farmers as well as bureaucrats are upset about the situation, but nobody seems to have the answers. Only explanations.

American technology, with a support from government agencies, explains in part the failure to curtail production. Subsidies may cut down on acreage planted. But output per acre grows astonishingly.

Fifteen years ago corn output per acre was in the area of 40 bushels. This year it will be more than double that figure. In just one year, wheat production has jumped 11 per cent to 28.7 bushels an acre.

American industry, the Agriculture Department, enterprising farmers and sometimes the weather all play a part in aborting the hopes and plans of the production planners. Money seemingly cannot buy a slowdown.

This year the situation assumes new importance. While budget experts write in anguish as they try to cut $6 billion from government spending, another billion dollars or so may have to be used in purchasing surplus crops.

The anomalies do not end here. Price support and crop reduction programs, which many people presume aid the family farmer, may in fact be adding the corporate farmer. It is the very large, efficient farmers who are responsible for boosting production. And it is they who often receive the subsidies.

The changing pattern of farm population is seen easily in statistics. Gross farm income continues to rise—it is about $50 billion this year—although the number of farmers declines. There are 10 million people on farms now, with net income of $13 billion to $15 billion.

Even this figure is deceptive, for much of the farm population today does not receive its livelihood from the farm. With mechanization, many members of farm families now work in factories.

The character of farm families also is changing. With the rising density of urban population, some businessmen have moved out beyond the suburbs to farms. Gentlemen farmers, they receive the major part of their livelihood from other activities.

Factors such as these distort the farm income picture. Although net income per farm continues to rise or remain near record high levels, around $5,000 a year, most family farmers are caught in a price squeeze. Some are bitter.

Inflation cuts deeply into the small farmer's income, as it does into that of the city dweller, and many of them feel helpless in dealing with food processors. They feel their output goes cheaply and that the consumer — rather than they, the producer — is the chief beneficiary.

"Food was never so cheap in terms of wage rates, quality so high and the producers so hard up—1910 prices with 1968 costs," is the way a Michigan farmer puts it.

He goes on to refer to "raw, brutal corporate power," a reference to the processors he must deal with. "Every year some place the screws are turned tighter on the producer."

And he continues: "Of the last 7-cent advance in a half-gallon carton of milk the producer got 2-3 of a cent—the 'big' 6-1-3 cents. And the farmer got all the headlines. Power? Pressure?"

Dissatisfaction is widespread with the current relationships of farmer to government and farmer to industry. Attitudes and analyses of the farm situation obviously need to be reviewed and brought up to date.

Not everyone can be made happy. Perhaps there is no answer. But in studying the American farm we should at least know what the subject is. It isn't what it was 10 years ago.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

MOST PEOPLE who walk for exercise, asserts Aaron Sussman, whose lively book, "The Magic of Walking" is the last word on the subject, "should stretch their stride a little."

Speed depends upon height. The relatively short Harry Truman trudged along at about three miles an hour; the taller Lyndon Johnson averages four.

The Russian temperament is peculiarly suited to the game of chess. They say that a Moscowite named Droskycharnoff invented the greatest defense in the history of the game. He grew whiskers so long they hid all sixteen of his pieces.

Droskycharnoff got off to a pungent start when he debarked from a trans-Atlantic jet at JFK Airport recently. A fresh reporter clapped him on the back and chortled, "Welcome, Drosky, Old Boy! Let any good rooks lately?"

All-time baseball great Joe DiMaggio defines spaghetti as "that stuff you wind around a fork and then drop on the suit you've just gotten back from the dry cleaner's."

Statistician Arnold Glasgow points out that the bathtub was invented about 1850 and the telephone in 1875. Had you been living in 1850, therefore, you could have sat soaking peacefully in the bathtub for 25 years without the phone ringing once!

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My husband has been mentally ill and now has been admitted to a state hospital. He is said to have schizophrenia. Every time I visit him and speak to other visitors, it seems that their relative, too, has the same condition, even though the symptoms are different. Can you tell me what is the real meaning of this disease?

Mrs. I.A., Maine
Dear Mrs. A.: There is much confusion about the term schizophrenia, mostly because it is so loosely used by people who are not really acquainted with the wide range of symptoms it includes. Even physicians who are not specifically trained in the science of psychiatry are equally puzzled by it.

The word comes from the Greek "schizein," meaning to split and "phren," meaning the mind. This condition, probably one of the most serious mental disorders, is often associated with the loss of contact with the social aspects of environment. To some people, it may even include cases of dementia precox, which, in itself, is a confusing diagnosis.

Schizophrenia really is not a single disorder, but rather a group of diseases with many sub-divisions. In this illness, the patient seems to lose contact with the world of reality and lives in some kind of fictitious phantasy.

I am certain that this is no real help to you. Perhaps I might be if I were to suggest that you do not trace symptoms or diseases or treatment with the other sad relatives who visit patients. Try only to learn the hopeful promise in your own situation and find sustenance in the knowledge that your husband is being given the excellent care that is now available.

I have a small mole on my jaw and I have been told to watch it to see if it grows larger. Believe me, I watch it so much that I see all kinds of changes in size, even though I am told it has not grown in five years. How long do I watch it?

Mr. N. V., Alabama
Dear Mr. V.: The instruction to watch a mole is one that I never could quite understand in the practice of medicine. Watch it for what? I have known people who have concentrated so much on their mole that they gave up their rightful heritage to happiness because it virtually scared them to death.

If anyone is to watch a mole, it should be the doctor who will measure it and, I pray, will not give the patient any reason for concern about it unless it is warranted.

People already sensitized by the fear of cancer can be done a great psychological injustice by asking them to keep "score" on the size of a mole. I truly believe that it is pointless to introduce unnecessary fears into the lives of those who already feel that they are living on a keg of cancer dynamite.

Don't diet at breakfast time.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. In order to be considered for publication, they must bear the correct name and address of the writer. Anonymous letters and those signed with the request that signatures be withheld will not be accepted for publication. Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of The Herald.

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter in response to the articles published in the Herald concerning the Pickaway County Children's Home. As an interested citizen of this community in the welfare of the children involved, I feel that a "Group Home" would be sufficient and necessary to be used as a receiving center for children ready for placement in foster homes.

There are some older children, who can not accept a foster home or foster parents, because of their ties to their own parents. A "Group Home," consisting of 5 to 10 children, instead of an institution, with a house mother and superintendant, would give these children the feeling of having a home and certain duties to perform to teach them as they grow the responsibilities that leads into an adult life.

I hope the commissioners and the Child Welfare Board will establish such a home as this. MRS. LOWELL FERGUSON

According To Boyle

By JOY STILLEV (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Most people complain that there are too many numbers in their lives these days, but in my case one digit too few caused several complications.

Last week our daughter was spending the night out of town, attending a farewell party given in her honor before she took off for a school year away from home.

One of her friends was due to fly in from Maine the next morning to say goodbye, and we had strict orders to pick the girl up at the airport when she called to say she had arrived.

The friend called all right, so early in the morning that I wasn't quite sure who she—or I—was. It seems she had flown in the previous evening, was staying with her sister and wanted Gay to call her when she got home.

I wrote down the telephone number and crawled sleepily back into bed.

When Gay returned I gave her the message. But there was a problem. The number I had scrawled had only six digits instead of the required seven.

It didn't take the services of a computer for us to realize that there were thousands of possible combinations, since we didn't know just where the missing number might belong in the series.

Gay was so annoyed with me that if she hadn't been planning to leave home anyway, I think she would have decided to at that moment. Her friend had made a long trip for the express purpose of seeing her, and there wasn't much time left for them to be together.

Faced with my departing daughter's reproachful looks I generously offered her the privilege of calling Priscilla's home in Maine to find out the phone number, or at least the name of the sister's husband. She tried, but there was no answer.

Gamely I started in dialing, inserting "0" between every digit in turn. Most weren't working numbers, but I did manage to get a few people off to an irate start on the day.

When my index finger gave out Gay took over, but she, overenthusiastic with her trigger finger, made contact with so many people with far-distant area codes that the search began to get expensive.

Then she called a couple of her out-of-town schoolmates, hoping they might have some clue as to the sister's identity or whereabouts. They didn't.

Every other possibility exhausted, she put in another call to Maine. This time she got Priscilla's mother—and the right telephone number. The culprit was the first digit.

Relieved and elated, Gay dialed the proper sequence. "I figured you'd lost my number or something," said Priscilla. "I've been trying to call you back for an hour, but your line has been busy."

Saving The 20th Century

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The magazine Esquire, in its thirty-fifth anniversary issue, probes the question of salvaging the remainder of the Twentieth Century. Judging by the contents, one wonders whether it is salvageable on any basis that is now foreseeable.

The truly memorable thing about the issue, dated for October, is that it has unearthed a previously unpublished essay by F. Scott Fitzgerald called "My Generation," which was apparently composed in an attempt to explain the chronicle of the jazz age to his daughter. Everything that Fitzgerald ever wrote has its quality of piercing beauty, and its wisdom, too. But this particular Fitzgerald piece is especially good. It has perceptions that have escaped our historians and our sociologists, such as the one that explains the hard-boiled generation of Andrew Jackson as "tougher and rougher than their fathers" because they were "adrift in a land more remote from the mainstream and all their doubt clothed them in desperation." Fitzgerald's theory is that a "reaction against the fathers" occurs about "three times in a century," and is "distinguished by a set of ideas, inherited in moderated form from the madmen and outlaws of the generation before."

And so let us go on from Fitzgerald's insights to another piece in the magazine that hopes to save us, an essay by Daniel J. Boorstin called "The New Barbarians." Boorstin is talking about Yuppies and Hippies and the Student Power and Black Power movements. The "madmen" of the previous generation whom the "new barbarians" follow are all those who preached a permissiveness, a pragmatism, that was unrelated to ends. It is not that philosophers such as John Dewey meant to unleash the devil; their personal values were extremely civilized. But they have bequeathed to the "new barbarians" a delight in means that is totally unconcerned with anything the means may produce.

With the "new barbarians" the quest for meaning has been totally displaced by the quest for power. "Happiness is Student Power." But power for what? It turns out that the object of student power is more power. The "community," which is all of us, will have to take the hindmost.

To skip to another magazine, Bill Buckley's National Review is currently engaged in a spin-off operation, launching a new publication to be called Combat.

It will be edited by Ted Lit, a veteran anti-Communist journalist, with Ruth Matthews, who inherited the greatest anti-Communist file in America from her husband J. B. Matthews, handling the research. One wishes Combat well, but Professor Boorstin's essay on the "new barbarians" makes one wonder how the editors of Combat will keep up with the tergiversations of the New Left.

The "new barbarian," says Boorstin, characteristically belongs to a "non-membership" organization. He has no fixed community even with his own "non-members." He does not carry a card, he is not trained or tested, he has no central core of beliefs, he simply says to his fellows, "I am with you today, baby, but who knows where I'll be tomorrow?" He wants his leaders to act now, for there is no long-term plan for any future.

The quest is for sensation, for the "trip" with LSD, for the thrill of baiting Mayor Daley's cops, for the joy of setting fires in the upper stories of a Columbia University building. How will the editors of Combat relate such a quest to any sickness that is the "result of organized infection?" We may be sure the Communists are working in the background of our recent disturbances, but the fact is that the new barbarian doesn't care for Communism any more than he cares for Democracy. He simply hurls rocks and epithets, which means that he has given up thinking.

One saw this nihilism in Grant Park in Chicago during the week of the Democratic convention. I listened to one nice-looking college student explaining himself to a reporter: "It's like what Chairman Mao says, power comes from the barrel of a gun. The cops have the guns. We've got to take the guns from them for ourselves."

But what would they use the guns for? In a world of "happennings," who would know how to organize anything? Is the Twentieth Century "salvageable?" It will take more than an issue of Esquire to tell us.

Scientists say substitute hearts of rubber are in the future. Now you know how bad the gold pinch is.

A rubber heart is doing well in the Goodyear laboratory in Akron. And that's a tiring environment.

There is no reason a heart of rubber shouldn't work. Stone does.

Hearts of rubber might even be more reliable than natural hearts. Consider self-sealing tires.

A rubber heart would shorten heart attacks. You'd bounce right back.

Imagine advertising for rubber hearts: "Get the Goodyear Beat."

A rubber heart would have a battery-powered motor. Well, getting one's wires crossed is sometimes fatal even now.

Dissatisfaction is widespread with the current relationships of farmer to government and farmer to industry. Attitudes to and analyses of the farm situation obviously need to be reviewed and brought up to date. Not everyone can be made happy. Perhaps there is no answer. But in studying the American farm we should at least know what the subject is. It isn't what it was 10 years ago.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

MOST PEOPLE who walk for exercise, asserts Aaron Sussman, whose lively book, "The Magic of Walking" is the last word on the subject, "should stretch their stride a little." Speed depends upon height. The relatively short Harry Truman trudged along at about three miles an hour; the taller Lyndon Johnson averages four.

The Russian temperament is peculiarly suited to the game of chess. They say that a Moscow named Droskycharoff invented the greatest defense in the history of the game. He grew whiskers so long they hid all sixteen of his pieces. Droskycharoff got off to a pungent start when he debarked from a trans-Atlantic jet at JFK Airport recently. A fresh reporter clapped him on the back and chortled, "Welcome, Drosky, Old Boy! Let any good rooks lately?"

All-time baseball great Joe DiMaggio defines spaghetti as "that stuff you wind around a fork and then drop on the suit you've just gotten back from the dry cleaner's."

Statistician Arnold Glasgow points out that the bathtub was invented about 1850 and the telephone in 1875. Had you been living in 1850, therefore, you could have sat soaking peacefully in the bathtub for 25 years without the phone ringing once!

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My husband has been mentally ill and now has been admitted to a state hospital. He is said to have schizophrenia. Every time I visit him and speak to other visitors, it seems that their relative, too, has the same condition, even though the symptoms are different. Can you tell me what is the real meaning of this disease?

Mrs. I.A., Maine
There is much confusion about the term schizophrenia, mostly because it is so loosely used by people who are not really acquainted with the wide range of symptoms it includes. Even physicians who are not specifically trained in the science of psychiatry are equally puzzled by it.

The word comes from the Greek "schizein," meaning to split and "phren," meaning the mind. This condition, probably one of the most serious mental disorders, is often associated with the loss of contact with the social aspects of environment. To some people, it may even include cases of dementia precox, which, in itself, is a confusing diagnosis.

Schizophrenia really is not a single disorder, but rather a group of diseases with many sub-divisions. In this illness, the patient seems to lose contact with the world of reality and lives in some kind of fictitious phantasy.

I am certain that this is no real help to you. Perhaps I might be if I were to suggest that you do not trade symptoms or diseases or treatment with the other sad relatives who visit patients. Try only to learn the hopeful promise in your own situation and find sustenance in the knowledge that your husband is being given the excellent care that is now available.

I have a small mole on my jaw and I have been told to watch it to see if it grows larger. Believe me, I watch it so much that I see all kinds of changes in size, even though I am told it has not grown in five years. How long do I watch it?

Mr. N. V., Alabama
Dear Mr. V.: The instruction to watch a mole is one that I never could quite understand in the practice of medicine. Watch it for what? I have known people who have concentrated so much on their mole that they gave up their rightful heritage to happiness

According To Boyle

By JOY STILLEY (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Most people complain that there are too many numbers in their lives these days, but in my case one digit too few caused several complications.

Last week our daughter was spending the night out of town, attending a farewell party given in her honor before she took off for a school year away from home.

One of her friends was due to fly in from Maine the next morning to say goodbye, and we had strict orders to pick the girl up at the airport when she called to say she had arrived.

The friend called all right, so early in the morning that I wasn't quite sure who she—or I was. It seems she had flown in the previous evening, was staying with her sister and wanted Gay to call her when she got home.

I wrote down the telephone number and crawled sleepily back into bed.

When Gay returned I gave her the message. But there was a problem. The number I had scrawled had only six digits instead of the required seven.

It didn't take the services of a computer for us to realize that there were thousands of possible combinations, since we didn't know just where the missing number might belong in the series.

Gay was so annoyed with me that if she hadn't been planning to leave home anyway, I think she would have decided to at that moment. Her friend had made a long trip for the express purpose of seeing her, and there wasn't much time left for them to be together.

Faced with my departing daughter's reproachful looks I generously offered her the privilege of calling Priscilla's home in Maine to find out the phone number, or at least the name of the sister's husband. She tried, but there was no answer.

Gamely I started in dialing, inserting "0" between every digit in turn. Most weren't working numbers, but I did manage to get a few people off to an irate start on the day.

When my index finger gave out Gay took over, but she, overenthusiastic with her trigger finger, made contact with so many people with far-distant area codes that the search began to get expensive.

Then she called a couple of her out-of-town schoolmates, hoping they might have some clue as to the sister's identity or whereabouts. They didn't. Every other possibility exhausted, she put in another call to Maine. This time she got Priscilla's mother—and the right telephone number. The culprit was the first digit.

Relieved and elated, Gay dialed the proper sequence.

"I figured you'd lost my number or something," said Priscilla. "I've been trying to call you back for an hour, but your line has been busy."

Saving The 20th Century

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The magazine Esquire, in its thirty-fifth anniversary issue, probes the question of salvaging the remainder of the Twentieth Century. Judging by the contents, one wonders whether it is salvageable on any basis that is now foreseeable.

The truly memorable thing about the issue, dated for October, is that it has unearthed a previously unpublished essay by F. Scott Fitzgerald called "My Generation," which was apparently composed in an attempt to explain the chronicle of the jazz age to his daughter. Everything that Fitzgerald ever wrote has its quality of piercing beauty, and its wisdom, too. But this particular Fitzgerald piece is especially good. It has perceptions that have escaped our historians and our sociologists, such as the one that explains the hard-boiled generation of Andrew Jackson as "tougher and rougher than their fathers."

Because they were "adrift in a land more remote from the mainstream and all their doubt clothed them in desperation," Fitzgerald's theory is that a "reaction against the fathers" occurs about "three times in a century," and is "distinguished by a set of ideas, inherited in moderated form from the madmen and outlaws of the generation before."

And so let us go on from Fitzgerald's insights to another piece in the magazine that hopes to save us, an essay by Daniel J. Boorstin called "The New Barbarians." Boorstin is talking about Yuppies and Hippies and the Student Power and Black Power movements. The "madmen" of the previous generation whom the "new barbarians" follow are all those who preached a permissiveness, a pragmatism, that was unrelated to ends. It is not that philosophers such as John Dewey meant to unleash the devil; their personal values were extremely civilized. But they have bequeathed to the "new barbarians" a delight in means that is totally unconcerned with anything the means may produce.

With the "new barbarians," the quest for meaning has been totally displaced by the quest for power. "Happiness is Student Power." But power for what? It turns out that the object of student power is more power. The "community," which is all of us, will have to take the hindmost.

To skip to another magazine, Bill Buckley's National Review is currently engaged in a spin-off operation, launching a new publication to be called Combat. It will be edited by Ted Lit, a veteran anti-Communist journalist, with Ruth Matthews, who inherited the greatest anti-Communist file in America from her husband J. B. Matthews, handling the research. One wishes Combat well, but Professor Boorstin's essay on the "new barbarians" makes one wonder how the editors of Combat will keep up with the tergiversations of the New Left.

The "new barbarian," says Boorstin, characteristically belongs to a "non-membership" organization. He has no fixed community even with his own "non-members." He does not carry a card, he is not trained or tested, he has no central core of beliefs, he simply says to his fellows, "I am with you today, baby, but who knows where I'll be tomorrow?" He wants his leaders to act now, for there is no long-term plan for any future.

The quest is for sensation, for the "trip" with LSD, for the thrill of baiting Mayor Daley's cops, for the joy of setting fires in the upper stories of a Columbia University building. How will the editors of Combat relate such a quest to any sickness that is the "result of organized infection?" We may be sure the Communists are working in the background of our recent disturbances, but the fact is that the new barbarian doesn't care for Communism any more than he cares for Democracy. He simply hurls rocks and epithets, which means that he has given up thinking.

One saw this nihilism in Grant Park in Chicago during the week of the Democratic convention. I listened to one nice-looking college student explaining himself to a reporter: "It's like what Chairman Mao says, power comes from the barrel of a gun. The cops have the guns. We've got to take the guns from them for ourselves." But what would they use the guns for? In a world of "happenings," who would know how to organize anything?

Is the Twentieth Century "salvageable?" It will take more than an issue of Esquire to tell us.

Scientists say substitute hearts of rubber are in the future. Now you know how bad the gold pinch is.

A rubber heart is doing well in the Goodyear laboratory in Akron. And that's a tiring environment.

There is no reason a heart of rubber shouldn't work. Stone does.

Hearts of rubber might even be more reliable than natural hearts. Consider self-sealing tires.

A rubber heart would shorten heart attacks. You'd bounce right back.

Imagine advertising for rubber hearts: "Get the Goodyear Beat."

A rubber heart would have a battery-powered motor. Well, getting one's wires crossed is sometimes fatal even now.

The October meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Floy C. Brobst, Route 4, Tuesday, Oct. 8.

Salem WCTU Holds First Meet Of Year

Members of Salem Women's Christian Temperance Union met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Durbin Allen, E. Franklin St. The program for the new year was opened by Mrs. Paul Hankins, president, with silent prayer and the group repeating "The Lord's Prayer."

Theme for the year is "Action Ahead." Mrs. Altha Reichelderfer read Scripture. Mrs. Pearl Patrick presented meditation and prayer. Mrs. Durbin Allen gave a reading from Union Signal magazine. She stated that the theme for September will be "Motivated To Pray And Pay."

Department emphasis was on public relations and citizenship. Mrs. Hankins presented a humorous program composed by Mrs. Maude Trask of Lima. It consisted of five large Idaho potatoes called "The Tater Family" with faces and wigs placed on them representing Mrs. Spectator, Mrs. Agi-tater, Mrs. Emata-tater, Mrs. Dic-tater and Mrs. Medi-tater.

Mrs. Hazel Leist reported on the candlelight service at the Lancaster Federation Meeting which she and Mrs. Gladys Shepler attended Wednesday evening. Mrs. Hankins summarized the highlights of the three day session.

Pickaway County Convention will be held at Salem Church Tuesday beginning 10:30 a.m.

The meeting was closed with pledges to the American, Christian and Temperance Flags.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Allen and new program calendars were distributed.

Page Miller Visits Parents

Page Miller has returned to New York City following a five day vacation with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller Sr. of Route 1.

Miss Miller has just completed a summer engagement with Guy Lombardo's Jones Beach Theatre. This open-air amphitheater is located on Long Island. It seats 8,200 persons and this year the production was "South Pacific". Page, the youngest member of the Jones Beach cast won the position over 78 girls in an open audition.

She is a graduate of Logan Elm High School and a 1967 graduate of the American Musical and Dramatic Academy in New York City. Directed by Philip Burton, foster father of Richard Burton. Since graduation from AMDA, Miss Miller has performed at the Rochester Music Theater in Rochester, N. Y.; recorded as a member of the "Whyte Boots", made a television commercial, sung at the Waldorf-Astoria and New York Hilton hotels and had become a member of Actors Equity prior to her performances at Jones Beach Theatre.

Mission Work Theme Of WSCS General Meet

The general meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Community United Methodist Church met recently in the church. The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. William Cox. The secretaries explained their work and told of plans for the year. It was announced that the charter meeting would be held in the church on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 27. The next general meeting will be a carry-in luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Oct. 2 at the church, with the Rev. George Sidwell as guest speaker.

The program for the evening was written by Mrs. Cox and was given as a World Tour of Mission Work of United Methodists. Each woman present was given a passport with her name and the following persons representing various countries in their dress told about United Methodist missions in her country: Mrs. Robert Mills, Japan; Mrs. Walter Heine, India; Mrs. Jean Holycross, South Pacific Islands; Mrs. Nancy Ranck, South American; Mrs. Robert Johnson, Africa. A display table of many articles of interest from other countries was there to be examined during the social hour which followed.

'Ditty Bags' Being Filled By Red Cross

Pickaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross reports that 200 bright-red Christmas bags are ready to fill.

This yearly program is called "Red Cross Shop, Early Vietnam." Last year volunteers made and filled 150 "Ditty" bags with personal articles for the men in Vietnam. Contributor's names and addresses were placed in each bag and many letters of appreciation were received by donors.

Making the bags this year were Mrs. George Kerr, Mrs. Porter Martin, Mrs. Keith Conrad, Mrs. Lewis Dean, Mrs. Mark DeLong, Mrs. Howard Norris, Mrs. Edward Hutchinson and Mrs. Cyrus Dille.

Many articles and gifts of money have already been received at headquarters. Items still needed are ballpoint pens, pen-sized flashlights with batteries, windproof cigarette lighters with flints, small address books, dark colored wash cloths, mailing size recording tapes, small tins of vacuum packed nuts and candies, small plastic snapshot holders, wipe and shine shoe polish, pocket games and small penknives. Articles may be taken to the chapter house at 167 Watt St.

Volunteers are needed to help fill the bags and it is noted that many of the volunteers do not have a loved one serving in Vietnam.

Grenadine syrup will give cooked fresh or canned pear halves a rosy hue. Use the pears for a fruit salad, a compote or other dessert.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official weather bureau summary for Ohio:

Cold wet weather continued Wednesday and overnight. Showers and thundershowers kept temperatures well below normal. Rainfall amounts were rather light, but isolated thundershowers dropped over an inch of rainfall in some localities. One of the Cleveland suburbs measures 1.62 inch. Temperatures Thursday ranged from 66 at Youngstown and Akron to 58 at Findlay.

Increasing sunshine was expected to push afternoon readings today to near normal, into the 60s and 70s. Temperatures will drop into the 40s and 50s tonight.

A high pressure cell centered in the Midwest this morning was expected to move through Ohio by Saturday, bringing fine weather to the Buckeye State.

Imported Men's Fashions Come with Moderate Price

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The male mod with only a medium amount of money can rejoice. Now he too can play the peacock with far-out fashions.

Until recently, high-fashion clothes for men by designers like Pierre Cardin carried high price tags.

Friday, however, a New York department store noted for its line-for-line copies of Paris designs for women introduced a collection of imported men's clothes, moderately priced, but immediately styled. The men's outfits were no copies, but originals by lesser-known, lower-priced foreign designers.

To the accompaniment of a steel band and the surprise of about 200 shoppers, long-haired male models paraded about Orbach's in fur coats, velvet knickers, leather jump suits and satin-like capes.

Among the more conservative items was a wolf parka, which all but overwhelmed the model and sold for $299. Another costume was a double-breasted pin-stripe gangster suit.

For evening the store offered a choice of a velvet knicker suit, worn with boots, or a double-breasted black suit with satin-faced lapels and matching cape.

The show's highlight, an apparent tribute to the "his and her" look, came when two models, one male, one female, paraded about in black chiffon "see-through" shirts. The boy looked more embarrassed.

Urge Health Law Changes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Health Director Dr. Emmett W. Arnold outlined for Ohio health commissioners Wednesday some problems which he said need the attention of the General Assembly next year.

Arnold listed several proposals affecting health administration in a keynote speech at a conference of commissioners with the Ohio Department of Health.

Among them he suggested revision of the compulsory immunization law for school children to include immunization against measles. In addition, he said, tuberculosis tests should be compulsory in schools, for employees as well as students.

He said a statewide law for fluoridation of public water supplies probably will be proposed again in the legislature. He said his department has been making some progress on the controversial program, "but very slowly."

Ike's Condition Still Improving

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's health is so much improved that his wife, Mamie, has been able to leave his bedside for some social activity.

Mrs. Eisenhower took time out from her bedside watch of her husband Wednesday when she left Walter Reed Army Hospital to attend a matinee performance of the musical "Fiddler on the Roof," at Washington's National Theater.

The 77-year-old Eisenhower has been in Walter Reed for the last four months, under treatment for a series of heart attacks. His latest and most severe attack came Aug. 6.

Trumpet Note Brings Ailment

RENO, Nev. (AP) — John Glenn Little may think twice before he tries to hit high "T" on the trumpet again.

Little, 28, of Sparks, Nev., reached for the note while playing with the Reno Municipal Band. His neck began hurting immediately. Examination showed two discs out of place and he was in traction today in a Reno hospital.

FOE Auxiliary Holds Session

Fraternal Order of Eagles 685, met Thursday evening in the Aerie Home when plans were made to sponsor a card party Sept. 25, in the basement. All proceeds will go for gift boxes for servicemen overseas.

Announcement was made that all members are invited to Linden for its auxiliary meeting to welcome Alta Lewing, grand madam president of Dubuque, Iowa, who is visiting in Ohio. A class initiation will be held in her honor.

The next meeting will be September 26, when plans will be made to host district 12 on the first Sunday in October.

Attending the district meeting on Sunday were Mrs. Inez Tucker, Mrs. Pauline Kennedy, Mrs. Norma Layton and Mrs. Alice Moody.

UPI Executive Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis T. Leary, 54, vice president and executive editor of United Press International, died in his New Rochelle home early today. Leary had been with the former United Press then UPI for 35 years. He joined UPI after a year with the Chicago Daily News.

Farmers' Cash Crop; Vacationers

By TOM GARDNER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A number of Ohio farmers have found a new "cash crop" to boost faltering incomes. The "crop" is vacationers. The harvest is getting better every year.

During the 1950s farmers in scattered parts of the state began turning to the idea of having paying guests on their farms. The formed county organizations and, in the early 1960s the statewide Ohio Farm and Rural Vacation Association.

Today the association has 21 members. About the same number of farms take in vacationers but do not belong to the association. Many farmers belong to the national Farm Vacations and Holidays Association of New York.

The Ohio association includes tree farms, general farms, horse and cattle ranches, dairy farms and grain farms, offering vacationers a wide selection.

Members of the association generally have quarters in their homes or separate living areas—ranging from rustic to modern—for one or two families, some more. Some also take children without their parents.

Martin Picklesimer, a past president of the association, has had vacationers for eight summers. He says the dilemma of today's farmer is one of needing larger and more sophisticated equipment to produce bigger crops or of maintaining a steady yield in the face of declining farm prices.

As a result, he said, larger farms are becoming more specialized while small farmers are concentrating on producing a general yield to feed the farm family while the farmer is forced to find work in outside business.

Notice is hereby given that Robert J. Shadley whose Post Office address is 324 E. Mound St., Circleville, Ohio has been duly appointed Executor of the Estate of Margaret B. Shadley, late of Pickaway County, Ohio, deceased.

Picklesimer said, the farmer can realize the extra income while remaining on the farm.

He said many farmers now are drifting towards fulltime recreation and away from production.

A series of setbacks left Ernest and Edith Myers of Attica wondering whether to sell their Seneca County farm. Twelve years ago they decided to take in vacationers.

"If we hadn't had this supplement, we don't know what would have happened," Mrs. Myers said. She believes dude farming has enabled many Ohio farmers to keep out of financial trouble.

This year's association president, Marjory Fuss of Carrollton in Carroll County, believes vacationers are an economic boon not only to the farmers but to the areas they visit.

She said 7,500 visited the county's eight farms last summer, buying food, gasoline and other necessities and luxuries with "considerable" effect on the area's businesses.

Having a farmful of visitors each summer often is demanding and always is confining, Mrs. Fuss said. But now, after seven seasons of dude farming with little time to themselves, she said, "we're farmers. We have work to do and when we're doing it, we're happy."

Mrs. Richard Starr of Quaker City, Noble County, said, "you sacrifice a lot, but you gain a lot." She especially misses the family's togetherness, lost during the vacation period.

"But you meet so many new people with interesting ideas," she said. "And it's a much better income than we can get from farming."

All farms in the association are inspected before being permitted to join it. In addition, the farmers carry heavy liability insurance.

Farmers have a few "don'ts" for vacationers—mainly involing animals with young and machinery—which must be strictly observed.

As a result, injuries are almost nonexistent. Of some 3,000 vacationers to their farm in a dozen years, Mrs. Starr said there had been only two minor injuries.

Farmers also receive considerable enjoyment from introducing city slickers to the country. Often, Mrs. Starr said, vacationers would stay up long into the night to watch a calf being born. She also reported having to explain to one dude farmer why the farm doesn't have "male and female bulls."

Vacationers to the Starr farm have increased from 22 six years ago to more than 170 this summer. Similar increases are reported by other farmers. Many visitors are returning for second and third summers — others visit different types of farm each summer.

The Ohio farmers have had guests from most of the 50 states and Canada. A few have entertained foreigners from France, Arabia and Pakistan.

Dude farmers come to learn

The Circleville Herald, Thur. Sept. 12, 1968
Circleville, Ohio

about farm life, to recall earlier days on the farm, to see attractions in the area or just to get away from the city. Mrs. Myers said, "they want to relax, to breathe fresh air and to get away from the telephone."

"Some lay around, some fish or swim, some boat, some help with the chores. A lot of them just welcome a chance to get bored."

Ford Philpot Crusade Kickoff Is In November

The Ford Philpot Crusade will be Nov. 13 through Nov. 24 for all of Pickaway County, it was announced today by Jack E. Noel, crusade chairman. There are 30 participating churches in the crusade.

Assisting Noel with the chairmanship of the crusade are Judge Guy Cline and Dr. W. L. Sprouse. The co chairman are the Rev. Eugene Flowers of the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church and Rev. Kenneth Fuller of the First Church of Christ in Christian Union.

Heading the prayer committee are Willard England, chairman, and John Dennis of the church of the Nazarene, co-chairman. Carl Fry of Tarlton Methodist Church and Jack Lemon, Ashville United Methodist, are zone captains. The prayer committee meets every two weeks.

THE usher committee chairman is Harry Betz of the Calvary United Methodist Church. He has announced that he is in need of ushers. On Oct. 27, an usher assignment meeting will be held at the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The finance committee chairman is Sheriff Dwight Radcliff. His committee is selling certificates to raise the funds needed for this crusade. Robert Bauer, Emmett Chapel United Methodist, is the Crusade treasurer.

The Sunday school committee chairman is Roger Hobbie of the Church of the Nazarene. His committee will start having biweekly meetings late in September.

The music committee chairman is Montford Kirkwood. The business committee chairman is Charles Wellman of Emmett Chapel United Methodist.

The Golden Age Committee chairman is the Rev. Clyde S. Albaugh, Church of the Brethren. Parking committee chairman is Chief of Police Robert Temple. Police along with the

Muskie Visits Youngstown, Other Cities

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine will launch the Democratic party's presidential campaign in Ohio today with a seven-hour visit to Youngstown and neighboring communities.

It will be the first visit to Ohio by either Democratic nominee since the party's national convention in Chicago last month.

The vice presidential hopeful was scheduled to arrive at Youngstown Municipal Airport at 9:30 a.m. and go from there to the nearby communities of Campbell and Struthers.

He will be accompanied in this area by John J. Gilligan, Democratic candidate for U.S. Senate from Ohio. Gilligan will meet Muskie at the airport.

After delivering a noon speech at Struthers High School, Muskie was to return to Youngstown for a broadcast taping session and an appearance at the Hotel Ohio.

He planned to leave Youngstown at about 4:30 p.m.

sheriff's staff will take care of all parking.

The ministerial participating committee chairman is the Rev. Allen Gallimore, Jefferson Church of Christ in Christian Union. The co-chairman is the Rev. G. H. Niswender, Calvary United Methodist.

THE spiritual preparation and conservation committee chairman is Walton Spangler, East Ringold United Methodist and the Rev. Foster Jenne, Emmett Chapel United Methodist, is co-chairman.

The telephone committee chairman is Charlotte Hill, Second Baptist Church. The youth committee chairman is Dwight Hershey, Jefferson Church of Christ in Christian Union, and his committee will soon be functioning.

The nursery committee chairman is Doris Seitz, East Ringold United Methodist.

The delegations and reservations committee chairman is Stephen Drew. The publicity and promotion committee chairman is Clyde Cook Jr., Emmett Chapel United Methodist.

The transportation committee chairman is Roy Seibel, Good Shepherd United Methodist. The location and facilities committee chairman is James Cassidy. The special speaking engagements committee chairman is Dale DeLong, Calvary United Methodist. He will make arrangements for Ford Philpot and the team when they are in town.

New Holland Prepares For Sesqui Event

The village of New Holland will observe its 150th birthday with a sesquicentennial celebration Sept. 17-21. At a special meeting in the village committee members outlined plans for the upcoming event.

A sesquicentennial queen will be crowned at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday to officially open the five-day celebration. Men's beards and old fashioned dresses of the women and girls will be judged on opening night.

There will be a stockade for clean-shaven men who do not have a permit to go beardless and for women who do not have permits to use makeup. An antique and classic car show will be featured during the celebration along with band concerts.

Most of the activities will be held at night on Main St. of the village, utilizing the entire length of the street. The dividing line will be state Route 22, which will be kept open for through traffic.

The carnival will include rides and games and the Legion will have a fish fry every evening.

Truckee River Parking Lot Urged

RENO, Nev. (AP) — The Truckee River varies in width from 150 to 300 feet as it cuts through downtown Reno. Why not cover it with concrete and use the space to park automobiles? Hotelman Charles Mapes made the suggestion at a public hearing on ways to solve parking problems around the big casinos and hotels. A planning firm is considering this and other proposals.

Wallace In Sharp Attack On Nixon Drive In South

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — George C. Wallace, the third-party presidential candidate, says Richard M. Nixon made an empty promise when he told Southerners he would not try to jam anything down their throats.

Wallace, challenging an appeal to conservative voters by Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, said, "the national Republicans, and the national Democrats, have already jammed everything down our throats there is to jam."

"There isn't anything left," he told a cheering crowd, "but there's going to be a good throat clearing on election day, Nov. 5."

Wallace, speaking Wednesday night at an outdoor rally and a $25 a plate fund-raising dinner which netted about $14,000, was referring to Nixon's promise at the Republican National Convention that he would not try to jam anything down the throats of the South or any other section of the nation.

"When the national Republicans come down here and ask you to support them, you ask them if they're going to give your schools back to you."

"And even if they say they're going to, they were the ones that took them away from you and they shouldn't be rewarded for giving them back," Wallace said.

At Wallace's side was former Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who earlier denied that he would formally endorse the third-party candidate. Also on the platform was former Gov. Jimmie Davis, who had greeted the candidate at the American Legion's national convention earlier Wednesday at New Orleans.

Wallace's attack on Nixon was the sharpest of his campaign.

He said the Republican nominee was vice president when the Supreme Court "took control of our schools away from us" with its 1954 decision outlawing segregation.

Lutheran Church Meet Winds Up

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The Lutheran Church in America, Ohio Synod, wound up its four-day meeting here Wednesday by approving a budget for 1969 totaling $2,762,270.

This is $86,873 above this year's budget and includes $1,166,470 for the synod and $1,595,800 for use by the church.

In other action, synod congregations agreed to raise $210,000 in 1969 as part of the church's special $6.5 million urban crisis appeal.

Muskie Visits Youngstown, Other Cities

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine will launch the Democratic party's presidential campaign in Ohio today with a seven-hour visit to Youngstown and neighboring communities.

It will be the first visit to Ohio by either Democratic nominee since the party's national convention in Chicago last month.

The vice presidential hopeful was scheduled to arrive at Youngstown Municipal Airport at 9:30 a.m. and go from there to the nearby communities of Campbell and Struthers.

He will be accompanied in this area by John J. Gilligan, Democratic candidate for U.S. Senate from Ohio. Gilligan will meet Muskie at the airport.

After delivering a noon speech at Struthers High School, Muskie was to return to Youngstown for a broadcast taping session and an appearance at the Hotel Ohio.

He planned to leave Youngstown at about 4:30 p.m.

sheriff's staff will take care of all parking.

The ministerial participating committee chairman is the Rev. Allen Gallimore, Jefferson Church of Christ in Christian Union. The co-chairman is the Rev. G. H. Niswender, Calvary United Methodist.

THE spiritual preparation and conservation committee chairman is Walton Spangler, East Ringgold United Methodist and the Rev. Foster Jenne, Emmett Chapel United Methodist, is co-chairman.

The telephone committee chairman is Charlotte Hill, Second Baptist Church. The youth committee chairman is Dwight Hershey, Jefferson Church of Christ in Christian Union, and his committee will soon be functioning.

The nursery committee chairman is Doris Seitz, East Ringgold United Methodist.

The delegations and reservations committee chairman is Stephen Drew. The publicity and promotion committee chairman is Clyde Cook Jr., Emmett Chapel United Methodist.

The transportation committee chairman is Roy Seibel, Good Shepherd United Methodist. The location and facilities committee chairman is James Cassidy.

The special speaking engagements committee chairman is Dale DeLong, Calvary United Methodist. He will make arrangements for Ford Philpot and the team when they are in town.

New Holland Prepares For Sesqui Event

The village of New Holland will observe its 150th birthday with a sesquicentennial celebration Sept. 17-21. At a special meeting in the village committee members outlined plans for the upcoming event.

A sesquicentennial queen will be crowned at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday to officially open the five-day celebration. Men's beards and old fashioned dresses of the women and girls will be judged on opening night.

There will be a stockade for clean-shaven men who do not have a permit to go beardless and for women who do not have permits to use makeup. An antique and classic car show will be featured during the celebration along with band concerts.

Most of the activities will be held at night on Main St. of the village, utilizing the entire length of the street. The dividing line will be state Route 22, which will be kept open for through traffic.

The carnival will include rides and games and the Legion will have a fish fry every evening.

Truckee River Parking Lot Urged

RENO, Nev. (AP) — The Truckee River varies in width from 150 to 300 feet as it cuts through downtown Reno. Why not cover it with concrete and use the space to park automobiles? Hotelman Charles Mapes made the suggestion at a public hearing on ways to solve parking problems around the big casinos and hotels. A planning firm is considering this and other proposals.

Wallace In Sharp Attack On Nixon Drive In South

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — George C. Wallace, the third-party presidential candidate, says Richard M. Nixon made an empty promise when he told Southerners he would not try to jam anything down their throats.

Wallace, challenging an appeal to conservative voters by Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, said, "the national Republicans, and the national Democrats, have already jammed everything down our throats there is to jam."

"There isn't anything left," he told a cheering crowd, "but there's going to be a good throat clearing on election day, Nov. 5."

Wallace, speaking Wednesday night at an outdoor rally and a $25 a plate fund-raising dinner which netted about $14,000, was referring to Nixon's promise at the Republican National Convention that he would not try to jam anything down the throats of the South or any other section of the nation.

"When the national Republicans come down here and ask you to support them, you ask them if they're going to give your schools back to you."

"And even if they say they're going to, they were the ones that took them away from you and they shouldn't be rewarded

Something To Think About . . . Repair Or Replace

By JEAN CRIST

One of the most disturbing remarks my children can make to me when discovering something is broken or in need of repair, is this, "Oh, that's alright, we can always get another one." This touches off a violent reaction from me which results in a few, loud, clear words followed by a serious lecture concerning thrift. As far as I'm concerned if there are places where there is a generation gap, this is one of them.

As a child I was taught the value of caring for my possessions. When they were broken they were repaired at home if possible or taken to an expert. The thought never entered my mind to get another of what I already had unless it was completely beyond use, only then did I consider replacement. And curiously, a doll that had been a broken arm repaired was no less lovable, if not more so, because it was more truly my own, different from any other doll. I shall never forget the Christmas morning I came downstairs to see my first bicycle. It was the most exciting Christmas I can remember. I rode the bicycle all day in the rain and the fact that it had been a used one which had been repaired and repainted by my father didn't make it any less perfect. And furthermore, I was under the impression that there was no more where this came from and you had better take good care of it and make it last a long time.

Contrast these attitudes with those that my children are exposed to daily via Madison Avenue. "If you have a toy that breaks, get a new one. If the dress you are wearing is last year's and out of style, get a new one. Once your possessions are damaged they lose their desirability. Who wants anything that has been used by someone else? Newness is success, status, and prestige all wrapped up in one neat package. Constant change is the byword, make it a point to be satisfied with nothing for very long and you will be leading the parade of the real "swingers."

Obviously, the present economy is different from that which existed when I was a youngster and admittedly today in some instances it is better to replace rather than repair. Second-hand items are less of a necessity to lower income families now because mass production and volume selling have brought the price of the new item within their reach. Many people have enough money to replace their possessions simply because they desire a newer style and for no other reason. They have every right to do so.

So as a parent, I will have to concede that some of my ideas in this regard are outdated and no longer apply and that in order to keep pace and communication with my children and the world about me it is necessary to constantly revise my ideas which are primarily based on an environment that

Socialist Party Denied Place On Ohio Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Socialist Labor Party, seeking a position on Ohio's presidential ballot, will join George C. Wallace's fight in the U.S. Supreme Court.

But, contrary to Wallace's American Independent Party, the SLP will not be granted a temporary position on the Nov. 5 election ballot while awaiting outcome of the high court proceedings.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown denied Wednesday a request by SLP attorneys to add the fourth political party to the ballot, asserting that the party must "have a federal court order, as did Mr. Wallace."

Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart Tuesday ordered Brown to place the names of Wallace and Marvin Griffin on the ballot temporarily as presidential and vice presidential candidates of the American Independent Party.

no longer exists. Even though I agree to change some of my thinking I still intend to make every effort to teach my children some basic attitudes which the passing of time has not made any less valid. I would like to help them recognize that age can add to the beauty and value of many things and make them more desirable. Seeing a beautiful painting or work of art that was done many years ago or visiting a magnificent cathedral will attest to this fact.

In some families, furniture, jewelry and mementos of their lives have been cherished and handed down with love to succeeding generations, giving these things a meaning and a quality that stark, sterile newness can never capture. And last but not least, that seemingly old-fashioned but really ever new idea, that regardless of the change in economy the world still functions best when every man does an honest day's work to obtain the material things he desires from life.

So it is my hope that the children will make concessions also and realize that some of the ideas regarding possessions and the attitudes surrounding them, which I and my parents and grandparents before me had, are still applicable and that only by combining the best of both generations ideas can we truly hope to improve society.

3 Men Injured When Wall Falls On Post Office

EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO (AP)—The new city post office building was badly damaged Wednesday and three men injured when the wall of a nearby building collapsed.

The building on Dresden Avenue was being demolished when part of one wall suddenly fell onto the post office building where the three men were working.

Injured and admitted to East Liverpool City Hospital were Frank Michison, 41, and Hollis Logue, 56, both of Calcutta, Ohio, and James Smith Jr., 44, of Chester, W. Va.

A hospital spokesman said the three men suffered head injuries and abrasions. Their conditions were described as satisfactory.

Post office officials said the opening of the new building would probably be delayed as much as six months.

Gilligan Faces Battle For Labor Backing

Saxbe To Try
For Support
By AFL-CIO

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Although Democrat John J. Gilligan's senatorial candidacy probably will be supported by organized labor, his endorsement "is not out and dried," according to Ohio's top labor leader.

Gilligan and Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, the Republican nominee, seek the support of the Ohio AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE).

They will be interviewed by COPE's operating committee here Sept. 26.

Democratic State Sen. Frank W. King of Toledo, president of the Ohio AFL-CIO, said Wednesday that the operating committee has not been "stacked" with Gilligan supporters.

But he admitted that the committee's membership is predominantly Democratic.

The 100-member operating committee will recommend endorsements to the full COPE, with more than 300 members.

King declined to predict who the AFL-CIO would support, but put down talk that the committee might pass over both candidates.

"There definitely will be a candidate endorsed for the U.S. Senate," he said.

COPE endorsed Gilligan in the May primary when he upset incumbent U.S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche.

The endorsement was worth only about $9,000 in COPE funds but the group admittedly raised more than $200,000 for Gilligan's campaign from individual union members and local unions.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, tore up a speech on the Republicans' economic record and told a University of Notre Dame audience in South Bend, Ind., the nation is threatened with "instability and disorder" unless Americans learn to live together.

In other political developments:

—Sen. Herman E. Talmadge easily won re-election in a Georgia Democratic primary Wednesday. But his opponent, Maynard Jackson, a youthful Negro, gained a sizeable vote in his first political effort.

—A Senate-passed bill that would clear the way for a Humphrey-Nixon debate by suspending an equal-time provision passed the House Commerce Committee by two votes and its final House fate remains uncertain.

—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, unsuccessful Democratic presidential contender, said he will not announce the candidate he favors or the campaign role he will play for at least three weeks.

Baltimore Police To Use Copter

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The Baltimore police department's experimental use of a helicopter to try to reduce crime gets off the ground today.

The city's Board of Estimates approved Wednesday a 100-hour use of a helicopter to cost the city $6,000. Hyman A. Pressman, city comptroller, suggested the program after saying it proved successful in Lakewood, Calif.

Pressman said police helicopters could "nip crimes in the bud of child molesting, narcotics, smuggling, robberies, burglaries, mob attacks on policemen and car thefts."

town Prague was generally clear of Russian tanks for the first time since the invasion three weeks ago.

The Soviets during the night evacuated the capital's last tank encampment, in a park between the main railroad station and St. Wenceslas Square.

Similar evacuations were reported from Bratislava, Kosice and Brno, the latter preparing for several thousand foreign visitors to its annual international trade fair starting Sunday.

A number of planes were heard taking off from Prague during the night. This could indicate a thinning out of the Soviet troops, but there was no immediate confirmation.

Soviet military police were on the roads outside the capital, directing traffic, stopping trains and holding railway crossing gates open for convoys, jeeps and tanks.

A heavy concentration of airborne and armored troops remained near Prague's international airport, where most scheduled flights resumed this week. Occasional armored cars were still seen in the city and some tanks were still inside the Soviet Embassy's grounds, but they were hidden from public view.

At the downtown tank park early today, the only evidences of the three-week occupation were the marks left by the tank treads and a smoky fire burning empty army supply cartons and discarded copies of Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper.

The major part of the occupation force, estimated at 650,000 men at one time, was believed to be still in the country to back up political pressure being exerted on Czechoslovakia's liberal Communist leaders by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily Kuznetsov.

Commuters Get Modern Cars

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — New Jersey commuters will try out several of the fastest electric commuter cars in the country next month.

The first 2 of 35 of the cars were accepted Wednesday and completed a successful initial run that State Transportation Commissioner David J. Goldberg said gave "evidence that a breakthrough in commuter travel can be made."

Representatives of various commuter organizations praised the modern cars for their comfort and performance, which included reaching a peak speed of 100 miles per hour between New Brunswick and Princeton Junction.

The Penn Central Railroad will put the cars into operation between Trenton and New York.

The city's Board of Estimates approved Wednesday a 100-hour use of a helicopter to cost the city $6,000. Hyman A. Pressman, city comptroller, suggested the program after saying it proved successful in Lakewood, Calif.

Pressman said police helicopters could "nip crimes in the bud of child molesting, narcotics, smuggling, robberies, burglaries, mob attacks on policemen and car thefts."

Commuters Get Modern Cars

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—New Jersey commuters will try out several of the fastest electric commuter cars in the country next month.

The first 2 of 35 of the cars were accepted Wednesday and completed a successful initial run that State Transportation Commissioner David J. Goldberg said gave "evidence that a breakthrough in commuter travel can be made."

Representatives of various commuter organizations praised the modern cars for their comfort and performance, which included reaching a peak speed of 100 miles per hour between New Brunswick and Princeton Junction.

The Penn Central Railroad will put the cars into operation between Trenton and New York.

Ashville News Report

Mrs. John Sabine — 983-7831

Miss Niki Rush and Miss Cathy Jamison of Springfield, Virginia visited from Thursday until Sunday with Niki's great-aunt, Mrs. Ben Morrison. While here they also visited with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rush.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wells, Jim and Tim and Cora Bethel were Monday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Schiff and Mike and David.

The Women's Civic Club of Ashville held its first meeting of the 1968-69 club year on September 5 at the home of Mrs. Velma Purcell.

The program for the evening was the installation of the newly elected officers. Acting as installation officer was Mrs. Thomas Sullivan of Ironton, Ohio.

Serving as the club officers for the coming year are Mona Morrison, president; Marie Mershon, vice president; Jerry Hedges, recording secretary; Stella Morrison, corresponding secretary and Alice Marion, treasurer.

The club is in a new division this year, Central Ohio River Division — CORD. New members and guests were given a brief look at the accomplishments of last year and a preview of what to look forward to this coming year.

Several committees were appointed by the president during a short business meeting, followed by refreshments.

New members attending the meeting were Carolyn Peters and Lillian Trego. Guests were Helen Toole, Susan Toole and Pat Hendershot.

Ronnie Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bell, received a fracture of the leg during the football game between Teays Valley and Bishop Wehrle Friday night. Ron is a Junior at the High School.

The Pythian Sisters of Ashville Temple No. 366 will meet for regular session on Tuesday evening, September 17. A report will be made of the Grand Temple which is being held in Cleveland this week.

Hostesses will be Shirley Rathburn, Joyce Gloyd, Candy Miller, Mary Costlow and Mae Borror.

The Bastian Funeral Home ambulance made the following runs this past week; September 3 took Edstella Ford to Doctors Hospital; September 7 took Ron Bell to Mercy Hospital from football game at Teays Valley High School; September 8 took Cheryl Bisker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bisker, to Mercy Hospital; September 10 returned Frank Adkins to his home from Doctors Hospital.

S. E. Duvall was in charge of the program at the September 3 Kiwanis Club meeting which was held at the Ashville Coffee Shop. Mr. Duvall showed a film on the X-15 Rocket Plane. The film was made available through the North America Aviation.

On August 27 the members of the club held their annual picnic at the Hay Lake with members wives as guests.

Visitors at the September 3 meeting were Dr. Blakeman, brother-in-law of Warren Bastian and Walter Hendershot a guest of Everett Beers.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Bill Fortner. He reminded members of the Division Council meeting which was September 11 at the Valleyview Golf Club at Lancaster. He also reminded members that second half-year dues are now due to be paid to the treasurer, Frank Hudson.

Don Forquer will be in charge of the program for the next meeting. He will show slides and have a few remarks to make on "The Freedom Foundation from Gettysburg."

Mrs. Lenna Musselman returned to her home Sunday from Doctors Hospital where she had undergone observation and treatment.

Scores for the Tuesday Morning Housewives Bowling League at Rainbow Lanes are as follows: High single game, Jill Roese 195; High three - game series, Jill Roese 528; High single team game, Burton's Jewels 642; High team series, Morrison's Market 1831.

Newark Man Gives Self Up After 25 Years As Fugitive

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—The 58-year-old fugitive from an Alabama prison who escaped 25 years ago while serving a sentence for killing a fellow convict could wait no longer to clear his conscience.

The slightly built, soft-spoken man walked into the office of the Newark Star-Ledger newspaper this week and told his story to an editor.

For most of the past 25 years Clarence Clark has been living under the name of Calvin Johnson with his wife and his four children, all of whom knew nothing of his secret.

"I just had to tell somebody all about it," he said. "Just call up Kilby Prison in Montgomery and they'll tell you it's true."

A telephone check to the prison by The Associated Press proved the story was true. Yes, authorities said, he had murdered a convict in prison and escaped in 1943 while serving a life sentence. A warrant for his arrest and extradition would be sent today, they added.

Clark said he hopes his good record over the last 25 years will save him from going back to prison, because he said he won't return.

The story he had to "tell somebody" was one of a boy who was orphaned when he was five, befriended by a farm family in Georgia until he was 12, when he ran away after someone told him they would lynch him because he was a Negro.

He said he went to prison a year later for burglary and claims he murdered a fellow convict who had been terrifying convicts and guards with brutal beatings.

"The first night he beat me up all night long," Clark said. "He had a letter opener and when he started out to chow through the cell block, I grabbed it and went for him. The papers said I stabbed him 26 times until he died. I had to. He was hitting me and hitting me and I knew he'd kill me."

Clark lives in Colonia and works as a porter at a South Plainfield plastics plant, where a company spokesman said he has a good record and is well liked.

Mrs. Johnson, who works at a state school for retarded children, learned of her husband's surrender from police. He had never told her of his secret.

"I'm sorry I didn't warn you, but it's for the best," he told his wife by phone after his surrender. "Now I can devote my life to God."

NEW ORLEANS DOMED STADIUM — This composite view shows the proposed domed stadium for New Orleans, looking south to the Mississippi River. It is designed to hold 80,000 for football. Architects claim the stadium's 125 million cubic feet of volume will make it one of the largest buildings in the world.

Dear Abby: A Nice Woman, But She's Not 'Mama'

DEAR ABBY: My mother died 2 years ago, and my father got married again last May. He married a very nice woman and I like her a whole lot, but Abby, I just can't call her "Mamma." I have tried, but when I do it makes me feel so bad I have to go away somewhere and cry alone. I loved my own mother so much, no one will ever be able to take her place. I have three younger brothers, and when I hear them call Daddy's new wife "Mamma," it hurts me so bad inside.

I don't have anything against this lady, but I just can't call her "Mamma." What should I do?

SAD 12-YEAR-OLD
DEAR TWELVE: Your Daddy's new wife doesn't expect you to love her as you did your own mother, nor does she want you to "hurt inside." So don't make comparisons, and don't feel guilty if you can't call her "Mamma." This woman has come into your home to make your Daddy happy and

Jobless Rate Touches Low Figure Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped to 3.5 per cent of the total labor force in August, touching a 17-year low for the third time in 1968, the Labor Department said today.

The number of jobless persons declined 450,000 to 2.8 million, nearly double the expected August drop.

"The unemployment rate once again equaled the Korean war-era low reached in January, April and May of this year," the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

At the same time, nonfarm payroll employment climbed 200,000 more than usual to an August high of 68.6 million. When farm workers and the self-employed are added, the nation's total of employed in August was 77.4 million.

The August job increases were largely in trade, service jobs and state and local governments.

The drop in unemployment, down from 3.7 per cent in July, largely reflected a drop in the number of women and teenagers seeking jobs, the bureau said.

A larger number of teen-agers than expected left the labor force in August, either giving up summer jobs or the search for work in preparation for returning to school.

The bureau said nearly 13 million youths 16-to-21 year old were in the labor force this summer, 550,000 more than last year. About 100,000 of the additional youths were unable to find work, the bureau said.

The unemployment rate for nonwhite workers, mostly Negroes, dropped from 6.9 to 6.2 per cent, while the rate for white workers edged down from 3.3 to 3.2 per cent.

The jobless rate for men held steady at 2.2 per cent. The rate for women dropped from 3.9 to 3.7 per cent.

Cincinnati GE Walkout Continues

CINCINNATI (AP)—A walk-out by some 600 electrical workers at the General Electric plant in nearby Blue Ash entered its second day today and picket lines were maintained at the main gates of the plant.

Spokesmen for the strikers said the strike arose because of unresolved grievances against the company.

The workers are members of Electrical Workers Local 1198. A GE representative said early today he was unaware of any of the so-called unresolved grievances.

Wyoming, which has some two million sheep, is second only to the state of Texas in the production of wool.

Dear Abby: A Nice Woman, But She's Not 'Mama'

DEAR ABBY: My mother died 2 years ago, and my father got married again last May. He married a very nice woman and I like her a whole lot, but Abby, I just can't call her "Mamma." I have tried, but when I do it makes me feel so bad I have to go away somewhere and cry alone. I loved my own mother so much, no one will ever be able to take her place. I have three younger brothers, and when I hear them call Daddy's new wife "Mamma," it hurts me so bad inside.

I don't have anything against this lady, but I just can't call her "Mamma." What should I do?

SAD 12-YEAR-OLD

DEAR TWELVE: Your Daddy's new wife doesn't expect you to love her as you did your own mother, nor does she want you to "hurt inside." So don't make comparisons, and don't feel guilty if you can't call her "Mamma." This woman has come into your home to make your Daddy happy and

Jobless Rate Touches Low Figure Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped to 3.5 per cent of the total labor force in August, touching a 17-year low for the third time in 1968, the Labor Department said today.

The number of jobless persons declined 450,000 to 2.8 million, nearly double the expected August drop.

"The unemployment rate once again equaled the Korean war-era low reached in January, April and May of this year," the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

At the same time, nonfarm payroll employment climbed 200,000 more than usual to an August high of 68.6 million. When farm workers and the self-employed are added, the nation's total of employed in August was 77.4 million.

The August job increases were largely in trade, service jobs and state and local governments.

The drop in unemployment, down from 3.7 per cent in July, largely reflected a drop in the number of women and teenagers seeking jobs, the bureau said.

A larger number of teen-agers than expected left the labor force in August, either giving up summer jobs or the search for work in preparation for returning to school.

The bureau said nearly 13 million youths 16-to-21 year old were in the labor force this summer, 550,000 more than last year. About 100,000 of the additional youths were unable to find work, the bureau said.

The unemployment rate for nonwhite workers, mostly Negroes, dropped from 6.9 to 6.2 per cent, while the rate for white workers edged down from 3.3 to 3.2 per cent.

The jobless rate for men held steady at 2.2 per cent. The rate for women dropped from 3.9 to 3.7 per cent.

to help him raise his children. She must be a wonderful woman. Give her a chance.

DEAR ABBY: After a long, unhappy marriage which ended in divorce, I married a widower. He is a very successful small town merchant who is very much admired in his community and church. We are very happy, but here is my problem:

I find that my husband pockets a part of each day's cash sales to avoid paying so much income tax.

How serious an offense is this, and what can happen to him if he is caught? I dare not ask anyone but you. Please answer in the paper and tell me what to do. I love him.

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: This is a very serious offense, and if caught, he can be fined and sent to prison. So if you love this crook, tell him to keep his duck out of the cash register.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's sister, Marcella, and I have been very close for years, so naturally, when Marcella became engaged, I expected her to ask me to be a bridesmaid at her wedding. You can imagine how hurt I was when she passed me by and asked her fiancé's two sisters who both live out-of-state. I wouldn't have minded so much but she had never met either one of them.

As it turned out, one of the girls cannot make the wedding, so now Marcella has asked ME to be a bridesmaid. I have been so hurt by this that I don't know what to do. Can you advise me?

SECOND CHOICE

DEAR SECOND: If it would give you pleasure to be Marcella's bridesmaid, accept. You would gain nothing by turning her down just to show your "hurt."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BORED AND BLUE" IN PHOENIX: The best cure I know for boredom and the blues is to turn one's attention to those who have "real" troubles. Get interested in hospital volunteer work, or crippled children, or mental health, or the disadvantaged. Just listening to someone else's problems can be the best medicine in the world for both of you.

Bruce Horn Has Local Art Show

Bruce Horn has an exhibit of art at The Savings Bank. The display will remain through all of September.

Horn is a graduate of Circleville High School, where he was active in sports, particularly football. He received a bachelor of fine arts degree from Miami University in April. He is presently doing graduate work at Ohio State University where he is employed as a teaching assistant.

Horn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lovett of Columbus, former residents of Circleville. He is married to the former Patty Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Young, 304 E. Mound St. They are the parents of one son, Rodney.

He began taking private art lessons with Miss Ruth Montelius at the age of 10 and continued through high school. During the past summer, he was employed as a package designer by Diamond National Paper Co., Middletown.

Recent exhibitions by invitation have been at Ohio Graphics Exhibition in 1967 at the Dayton Art Institute; Cincinnati Biennial I at Cincinnati Art Museum, The Second National Student Printmaker's Exhibition, Chapel Hill, N.C.; Senior Show, Miami University, Oxford; Current Exhibition of Prints and Sculptures at the Rental and Sales Gallery, J. B. Speed Art Museum, Louisville, Ky.

Wool With Bite

MELBOURNE (AP) — A set of dentures has been returned to the Sale office of a stock and station agent after Melbourne wool sorters found the teeth in a bale of wool from Sale district.

Cincinnati GE Walkout Continues

CINCINNATI (AP)—A walkout by some 600 electrical workers at the General Electric plant in nearby Blue Ash entered its second day today and picket lines were maintained at the main gates of the plant.

Spokesmen for the strikers said the strike arose because of unresolved grievances against the company.

The workers are members of Electrical Workers Local 1198. A GE representative said early today he was unaware of any of the so-called unresolved grievances.

Wyoming, which has some two million sheep, is second only to the state of Texas in the production of wool.

NEW YORK (AP) — "From Chekhov, With Love," the 90-minute CBS drama special Wednesday night rolled along somberly and interminably. Even if one was not utterly caught up with the correspondence and problems of the turn-of-the-century Russian playwright, the program was an interesting experiment in television technique.

Jonathan Miller, British actor-director, adapted the production to television from a Russian play which in turn was fashioned from the letters of Chekhov, his brother, sister, actress wife and best friend, revolutionary playwright Maxim Gorky.

It came to television less a drama than a stylized reading. Sir John Gielgud, as the frail doctor who abandoned medicine to write plays including "The Sea Gull" and "The Cherry Orchard" presented a portrait of a man who in spite of his tuberculosis had a passion to keep writing.

He was surrounded by such excellent British performers as Nigel Davenport, Wendy Hiller, Peggy Ashcroft and Dorothy Tutin.

The program was shot almost completely in closeups. Often Gielgud talked from a position behind a desk or stretched out on a bed. Sometimes there were deliberately stylized backgrounds such as paper cut-outs.

3 Ohio Soldiers Killed in Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Ohio servicemen have been killed in recent action in Vietnam, the Defense Department reported Wednesday.

They were Army Pfc. Joseph Schmidt, whose widow, Sandra, lives in Newark; Marine Pfc. Kenneth R. Oliver, son of Mrs. Gertrude Oliver, Columbus, and Marine Pfc. Robert L. Smith, husband of Mrs. Robert L. Smith of Cincinnati.

Lindsay's "Answer Man," the local soft water expert, gets typically feminine questions like this:

Q: If a Lindsay Automatic Water Softener actually cuts laundry costs as you claim, shouldn't a wife get to keep the savings?

A: You get so many other soft water benefits, why be grabby? Let him keep the savings. You'll get a cleaner whiter wash with less work. This is because Lindsay Soft Water totally removes all soap-scurd, dirt-scurd, and minerals which clog fabrics. His shirts will be whiter, kids' clothes and your lingerie will be softer, look new longer. And ironing's easier. And you want money too?

NASA Chief Says Russia Ahead Of U.S. In Space

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said Wednesday the Soviet Union has pulled ahead of the United States in the space race.

"If we can achieve parity by the end of the 1970's we will be fortunate," James E. Webb told a news conference here.

Referring to government cutbacks in funds to NASA, Webb said the United States is "not going out of the space business entirely but after a craft orbits Mars in 1971 we may be out of the planetary business."

Webb said with a capability of launching as many as six Saturn V launch vehicles per year, NASA had to lower its goals to four per year, then to two per year.

"And now, under our interim plan for the present year, we

The program was shot almost completely in closeups. Often Gielgud talked from a position behind a desk or stretched out on a bed. Sometimes there were deliberately stylized backgrounds such as paper cut-outs of the principals who were being talked about.

While the project must have been of vast interest to students of the drama, it probably left the average television viewer cold. Chekhov, let us face it, is not exactly a household word in America, and even if one enjoys his writings, not everybody cares too deeply about his health or other personal problems.

What do television stars do when their series are canceled and they are out of work? They take on guest roles, even when they don't get billing.

And that has been the humiliating fate of a series star of two seasons back. Flipper, the lovable dolphin, will be back in a minor role in the season's premiere of "Gentle Ben," on CBS Sept. 29.

It will be one of the several trained dolphins whose combined talents were used in the Flipper series. "Flipper" and "Gentle Ben" are products of Ivan Tors' production company in Florida.

What a come-down—from title role to unidentified dolphin playing second fiddle to a bear, and in only two years. Well, that's show biz for you.

Webb said with a capability of launching as many as six Saturn V launch vehicles per year, NASA had to lower its goals to four per year, then to two per year.

And now, under our interim plan for the present year, we have had to terminate production of both the Saturn 1B and the Saturn V after completion of those on order," he added.

Webb said the true cost of these actions would be measured in future years, not only by the opportunities lost, and the high cost of re-establishing large booster production lines, but by the time, anxiety and doubts "of our ability which will attend a position of being forced in the 1970's to try and catch up from behind as we had to 10 years ago."

Later Webb addressed a meeting of electric company officials at a NASA sponsored conference on how space technology can help the power industry.

Garden Gossip and Helpful Hints

By MRS. E. P. HANSON
'The Lady by the Lake'

Time to be thinking of the flowers to be brought into the house. If it is done this week they will become well started with good roots and be set for blooming later in the fall.

Plants that take well for indoor blooming are calendulas, asters of the dwarf variety, begonias, lantanas, tiny petunias and of course the old time favorites geraniums and coluses.

Out of the east edge of Dunkle Road live the Earl Rhodes in a brick home and under the front windows they have some excellent plants of 'Live for Ever'. The plants have developed into thick foliage giving the impression that they are bushes with lavender-pink blossoms.

This same plant can be found in the flower bed on the east side of Clayton Vaughan's driveway. It seems as tho the weather had a lot to do with this particular type of succulent. They had been heavily fertilized in the spring.

At this time of the year many plants are ripening and it is wise to know which of the berries and nuts are poisonous to humans. The leaves of a great many can be fatal to children and adults too. Holly berries, buckeyes, and anything that the birds do not eat. Be careful not to bite into the leaf you pick from bushes and vines.

A goodly number of people have mentioned black spot and mildew on roses, the best thing to do is to continue to spray and burn leaves taken from the canes.

family in California. We put them by the corner of the well so that we can see them from the porch as we eat most of our meals out there.

The lake has mirrored the sky all week and with the many colored sail boats it has been really exciting living out here.

This day and age it is rare to see anyone mowing their lawns with a hand and foot powered mower. Mr. Mike Bruno of 580 Oakland Terrace in the new Northwood Addition was mowing his lawn on a warm Saturday afternoon. The lawn is one of the nicest I have seen. It is much more work, but this yard of two and one half years shows the results of careful care and work.

In back of this brick and wood home is a small tract of trees and Mr. Bruno has transplanted a good many of them.

The yard seems to be in sections, but when you walk around it, the continuity gives one the feeling that it is part of the opening glen with a backdrop of the tall trees.

Guarding the driveway are Vibena, Dogwood, White Oak, Silver Maple and Elm taken from the woods in the back. Along the walk to the front entrance with Periwinkle and ivy, is a flowering crab that has had its limbs trimmed in such a manner as to control the growing, all to the front.

Beneath the front windows are Andorra Juniper then at the turn of the sidewalk is a grey-blue Globe (Glanca) that gives one a feeling of a large ball trimmed to perfection.

Enonymus, (compactus), with burning bushes finish off the foundation planting at the front. Turning the corner Choke chery-r and burning bush are planted in the lawn. To the far west line of the yard in the back are Russian Olives planted eight feet apart, in the two years are now touching each other and the grey-green leaves with its tiny berries are a safe haven for all the song birds that populate the area. The red oaks are good size and under and to the side dwarf honeysuckle, wahoo, ivy and spring violets form that corner. Then to the vegetable garden which had zucchini, tomatoes, peppers, squash large and orange as were the pumpkins, also broccoli grew in this garden for the kitchen.

Billy and Mike have been having quite a time leaving the delicious apple tree alone.

Grandparents from New York were expected and the parents hoped to have the apples for show before they were picked for eating.

Between the vegetable garden and apple tree is a row of wahoo, hawthorn, dogwood and maple all from the woods and transplanted. Burning bush both wild and domesticated are conversation pieces seen from the patio. Catonia Aster hang over the wall that forms the patio. Also one can see coxcomb, zinnias of very vivid color.

A rose garden is a must in the interesting yard and wide variety seems the order from the lady of the house.

For the roses a curtain in the east is made up of Ash, hackberry, wahoo, with the berries turning red, jade crab, holly, Japanese quince, Azaleas, Rhododendron and pyrocantha all have their place in this wholly delightful and exciting yard.

Autumn - flowering Crocus seem to have turned the calendar back a few months as seen in the R. S. Denman home at 225 Northridge yard. A really happy sight to see as they seem to just be there overnight where one day there is just grass, then the pale lilac shade is found among the flagstones.

French Sale Of Gold Higher Than Thought

WASHINGTON (AP) — France's hush-hush sale of gold to the United States in June, a humiliating act for the government of Charles de Gaulle, turns out to have been far larger than speculation indicated.

The upper limit of guesses as to the size of the sale, necessitated to bolster the suddenly wobbly franc, was about $100 million.

But the Treasury Department's quarterly report on monetary transactions, released Tuesday, showed the actual figure to be $220 million.

The report also showed that despite the big purchase from France the United States experienced a $21.9 million outflow of gold during the second quarter.

But this was only a tiny fraction of the $1.4 billion drain during the first quarter when the United States was still committed to supporting the price of gold on the London market.

Since March, when a two-price system for gold was set up, the United States and other gold pool nations no longer try to keep the free market price in check, instead letting it find its own level.

The traditional regulated price of $35 an ounce is now observed only in transactions between governments.

Starting in 1962, France embarked on an aggressive policy of buying U.S. gold, coming around every month to exchange the dollars it held for bullion.

This eventually settled down to a pattern of purchasing at least $34 million every month an outflow that seriously hurt the level of U.S. gold holdings.

But the French were able to keep up the pace only until Sept. 1966, when they stopped buying.

Talmadge Is Renominated; Negro Opponent Claims Win

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., has won renomination to the Senate by a margin of nearly 3-1 votes. His opponent, Maynard Jackson, a Negro, got more than 100,000 votes and said this represented a moral victory.

"Georgia told the world that any American—black or white, rich or poor, liberal or conservative—can run for public office in this state," Jackson said.

Talmadge said, "I profoundly appreciate this vote of confidence in the Talmadge record." Returns from 1,006 of 2,011 precincts gave Talmadge 322,897 votes, Jackson 112,357.

Winner of the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate apparently was Earl Patton Jr., 41, an Atlanta manufacturers' representative. Returns from 766 of 2,011 precincts gave Patton 15,418, State Sen. Jack Sells of Atlanta 10,379.

Two Democratic congressmen won renomination and former congressman Charles L. Weltner gained nomination again in an attempt to retrieve his seat. Weltner withdrew two years ago rather than keep a party loyalty pledge and support gubernatorial nominee Lester Maddox, now governor.

Major interest centered on Jackson's challenge of Talmadge, 55, former governor and longtime power in politics and son of Eugene Talmadge, who was elected governor four times.

In conceding the election defeat to Talmadge, Jackson said "an historical victory has been achieved." It was the first statewide race by a Negro candidate since Reconstruction.

Jackson said he probably would have lost in any case but was "deeply disappointed and grieved for those who did not have the opportunity to express their desires at the ballot box because of improper conduct on the part of some officials."

He did not explain the remark, or identify the officials.

Annual Cross County Rivalry Highlights Grid Scene

Circleville School officials expect a capacity plus crowd Friday when the Teays Valley Vikings invade the local gridiron for the annual battle between Pickaway County's only two class AA schools.

It will be the sixth meeting between the two schools. All five previous games have been won by the Tigers, and they are a favorite to win again this year.

Teays Valley has shown steady improvement over the years. In the first meeting between the two schools, the Vikings were on the short end of a 41-0 score. Last year, the Tigers won by a 21-point margin, 27-6.

Circleville Coach Denny Williams plans to go with the same personnel, same defense and same offense as last week in the 26-24 loss to Grove City.

"OUR offense did the job at Grove City and our defense did at times," Williams said today. "We hope we have solved any problems."

"We hope to eliminate the mistakes we made last week and not make any new ones," he said.

Will Bost, the transfer student from Amanda-Clearcreek who showed good form in pre-season practice only to miss the first game because of a leg injury, will see limited action Friday. Also tabbed for limited action is guard-linebacker Jim Samuel, who injured a toe two weeks ago in the band preview.

Rick Sims will quarterback the squad. Eddie Wells will start at fullback. The halfbacks will be Danny Smith, Frank Carter and Mike Henderson.

Phil Diehl and Dick Walters will start at ends. The tackles will be Don Cordle and Wayne Garrison. John Schroeder and Mark Ralston will see action at the guards and Steve Barthelmas at center.

DEFENSIVELY it will be Barthelmas and Wells at ends and Cordle and Garrison at tackles.

Linebackers are Diehl, Samuels or Ralston and Steve Olney. Halfbacks are Henderson and Walters and safeties are Sims, Carter and Smith.

In spite of the loss suffered by Teays Valley at the hands of Bishop Wehrle last week, Dick Kidwell sees a lot to be optimistic about.

"We should improve every week," he says of his comparatively young team. "In fact, we improved during the game last week. Even when we were way behind, the kids played eager football."

Kidwell feels his squad will have to stop Eddie Wells, veteran Circleville fullback, and sons, linebacker, missed the first game and will miss the Circleville game with a groin injury.

KIDWELL has made a switch in the starting backfield. Mike Buckingham will quarterback the TV squad. Mark Leatherwood will be moved to a half-back spot.

The other halfback will be Danny Hicks while Ron Crosby will start at fullback.

Along the line, Dean Foresam is expected to replace Rick Stewart at one tackle. Don Stir will be the other tackle. Mike Schiff will be the center and Jim Partee and Chuck Jackson the guards.

Ed McCord and Jeff Helsner are expected to start at ends this week in place of Steve Hines and John Tucker.

On defense, Schiff will be the middle guard. Stir and Foresam the tackles, Mark Brinker and Bob Tucker at ends.

Chuck Jackson and Rick Stewart will handle the line-backing positions at the beginning of the game. John Tucker and Champ Henson will be the cornerbacks and McCord and Leatherwood the safeties.

LAST week the Vikings fumbled three times and had two passes intercepted the first five times they had the ball. But Kidwell doesn't expect that to happen this week.

Films showed that in the fourth quarter last week the squad controlled the ball fairly well. Almost every one of the Wehrle scoring drives started inside the Viking 50 yard line.

Braves On Road Against St. AL

Logan Elm travels to the hills of Perry County Saturday night to play a rough New Lexington St. Aloysius football team.

The parochial school does not have a football field of its own and schedules its home games on Saturday to avoid conflict with New Lexington High School whose field it uses.

The St. Al Trojans defeated Roseville in the opening game of the season.

Logan Elm head coach Mark Albright is anticipating that St. Al will be one of the better teams the Braves will face this year.

LAST year, Logan Elm led the St. Al team, 14-12, at half-time, only to lose 42-14, as the Trojans battered the Braves' defenses for four touchdowns in the second half.

A couple of St. Al's more potent offensive backs graduated, but they appear to be a strong football team again according to scouting reports.

LE scout Gene Massee, who watched St. Al defeat Roseville, said the latter was a good team. Albright is looking for a wide-open offense from the Trojans. They use a standard Oklahoma defense.

With the exception of John

Weaver, who is still sidelined with a severe ankle sprain, Logan Elm is comparatively healthy for the game.

New Lexington uses a multiple offense, running from the I, pro I and power I. The names of the two better backs at the school are Kaufman and Fisher. The team passes a great deal.

Coach Albright has tabbed Tom Seimer to start at quarterback again. Danny Fausnaugh will start at the right halfback position and Mike Weaver at fullback. The left half will be either Rick Lear or sophomore Steve Curtis.

THE ends will be Byron Sykes and Dan Ankrum. Ralph Robey and Roger Evans will start at tackles. Dave Reichelderfer and Steve Sykes at guard and Mark Kempton at center.

Because of the lack of depth at Logan Elm, these gridders will see most of the action both ways in the game. The ends and tackles will be the same on defense as on offense.

Kempton will be the middle guard. Fausnaugh and Reichelderfer will be the linebackers. Safeties will be Lear, Seimer and Weaver. Cornerbacks will be Steve Sykes and Curtis.

Mustangs Plan Motor Caravan

Westfall High School football fans are planning a motor caravan to Unioto Friday.

The Westfall coaching staff announced that the bus carrying the football players will leave the school at 6:15 p.m.

Fans wanting to be a part of the caravan are to be at the school when the bus leaves.

Danny Smith, halfback. "It looks like Smith is the big threat while Wells is always good for three or four yards up the middle."

Last week the Vikings lost Ron Bell for the season. He suffered a broken leg. Kenny Par-

Annual Cross County Rivalry Highlights Grid Scene

Circleville School officials expect a capacity plus crowd Friday when the Teays Valley Vikings invade the local gridiron for the annual battle between Pickaway County's only two class AA schools.

It will be the sixth meeting between the two schools. All five previous games have been won by the Tigers, and they are a favorite to win again this year.

Teays Valley has shown steady improvement over the years. In the first meeting between the two schools, the Vikings were on the short end of a 41-0 score. Last year, the Tigers won by a 21-point margin, 27-6.

Circleville Coach Denny Williams plans to go with the same personnel, same defense and same offense as last week in the 26-24 loss to Grove City.

Williams plans to go with the same personnel, same defense and same offense as last week in the 26-24 loss to Grove City.

"OUR offense did the job at Grove City and our defense did at times," Williams said today. "We hope we have solved any problems."

"We hope to eliminate the mistakes we made last week and not make any new ones," he said.

Will Bost, the transfer student from Amanda-Clearcreek who showed good form in pre-season practice only to miss the first game because of a leg injury, will see limited action Friday.

Also tabbed for limited action is guard-linebacker Jim Samuel, who injured a toe two weeks ago in the band preview.

Rick Sims will quarterback the squad. Eddie Wells will start at fullback. The halfbacks will be Danny Smith, Frank Carter and Mike Henderson.

Phil Diehl and Dick Walters will start at ends. The tackles will be Don Cordle and Wayne Garrison. John Schroeder and Mark Ralston will see action at the guards and Steve Barthelmas at center.

DEFENSIVELY it will be Barthelmas and Wells at ends and Cordle and Garrison at tackles.

Linebackers are Diehl, Samuels or Ralston and Steve Olney. Halfbacks are Henderson and Walters and safeties are Sims, Carter and Smith.

In spite of the loss suffered by Teays Valley at the hands of Bishop Wehrle last week, Dick Kidwell sees a lot to be optimistic about.

"We should improve every week," he says of his comparatively young team. "In fact, we improved during the game last week. Even when we were way behind, the kids played eager football."

Kidwell feels his squad will have to stop Eddie Wells, veteran Circleville fullback, and sons, linebacker, missed the first game and will miss the Circleville game with a groin injury.

KIDWELL has made a switch in the starting backfield. Mike Buckingham will quarterback the TV squad. Mark Leatherwood will be moved to a halfback spot.

The other halfback will be Danny Hicks while Ron Crosby will start at fullback.

Along the line, Dean Fossam is expected to replace Rick Stewart at one tackle. Don Stir will be the other tackle. Mike Schiff will be the center and Jim Partee and Chuck Jackson the guards.

Ed McCord and Jeff Helsner are expected to start at ends this week in place of Steve Hines and John Tucker.

On defense, Schiff will be the middle guard, Stir and Fossam the tackles, Mark Brinker and Bob Tucker at ends.

Chuck Jackson and Rick Stewart will handle the line-backing positions at the beginning of the game. John Tucker and Champ Henson will be the cornerbacks and McCord and Leatherwood the safeties.

LAST week the Vikings fumbled three times and had two passes intercepted the first five times they had the ball. But Kidwell doesn't expect that to happen this week.

Films showed that in the fourth quarter last week the squad controlled the ball fairly well. Almost every one of the Wehrle scoring drives started inside the Viking 50 yard line.

Braves On Road Against St. AL

Logan Elm travels to the hills of Perry County Saturday night to play a rough New Lexington St. Aloysius football team.

The parochial school does not have a football field of its own and schedules its home games on Saturday to avoid conflict with New Lexington High School whose field it uses.

The St. Al Trojans defeated Roseville in the opening game of the season.

Logan Elm head coach Mark Albright is anticipating that St. Al will be one of the better teams the Braves will face this year.

LAST year, Logan Elm led the St. Al team, 14-12, at halftime, only to lose 42-14, as the Trojans battered the Braves' defenses for four touchdowns in the second half.

A couple of St. Al's more potent offensive backs graduated, but they appear to be a strong football team again according to scouting reports.

LE scout Gene Massie, who watched St. Al defeat Roseville, said the latter was a good team. Albright is looking for a wide-open offense from the Trojans. They use a standard Oklahoma defense.

With the exception of John

Weaver, who is still sidelined with a severe ankle sprain, Logan Elm is comparatively healthy for the game.

New Lexington uses a multiple offense, running from the I, pro I and power I. The names of the two better backs at the school are Kaufman and Fisher. The team passes a great deal.

Coach Albright has tabbed Tom Seimer to start at quarterback again. Danny Fausnaugh will start at the right halfback position and Mike Weaver at fullback. The left half will be either Rick Lear or sophomore Steve Curtis.

Yankees Whip Past Chicago, 7-2

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Fritz Peterson is throwing his support behind the New York Yankees' catch-up campaign ... and Chicago's Tom McCraw has thumbed a ride on the bandwagon.

Peterson hurled the streaking Yankees past Chicago 7-2 Wednesday night for his fifth consecutive victory after the White Sox committed four errors—including a pair by defensive replacement McCraw—in a seven-run sixth inning collapse. The victory extended the Yanks' winning string to six games in a sustained late season drive that has carried them from seventh place in the American League to within reach of the third spot.

Elsewhere, Willie Horton's 34th and 35th homers led first place Detroit to an 8-2 romp over California; Baltimore swept a doubleheader from Washington 6-1 and 4-1 in 10 innings; Oakland edged Boston 3-2 in 12 innings and Cleveland nipped Minnesota 1-0 in 12.

Peterson, who has won eight of his last 11 decisions for an 11-9 season record, held the White Sox to an unearned run until the ninth, when rookie Bill Melton cracked his first major league homer. That was only the second earned marker off the New York southpaw in his last five starts.

Chicago's Joe Horlen was clinging to a 1-0 lead when McCraw took over for first baseman Pete Ward in the sixth ... and fumbled Mickey Mantle's leadoff bounce to trigger the wild rally. Roy White doubled, Joe Pepitone stroked an RBI single and White also scored when right fielder Buddy Bradford bobbled the ball.

McCraw's wild throw to second on Tom Tresh's grounder and an intentional walk filled the bases before Peterson sent Peptone home with a squeeze bunt to Horlen, who threw the ball into right field, allowing Tresh to score. Horace Clarke followed with a two-run single and eventually scored the seventh run ... on a wild pitch by Wilbur Wood.

Horton's first homer of the game touched off a five-run burst in the second inning that carried southpaw John Hiller to an easy victory.

Bill Freehan also homered and Dick McAuliffe and Don Wert drove in two runs apiece for the Tigers, whose pennant clinching magic number was reduced to eight. They lead second place Baltimore by eight lengths with 15 games remaining.

Hiller, 8-5, gave up 10 hits on the way to his 18th victory and Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell each delivered two runs as the Orioles took their opener. Dave Johnson won the nightcap with a three-run homer off reliever Dave Baldwin in the 10th.

The A's pushed over the winning run against Jim Lonborg, who went the distance for Boston, when pinch runner Allen Lewis zipped to third on the front end of a double steal and scored on Bert Campaneris' sacrifice fly.

Mike Hershberger led off the 12th with a single and gave way

Arnie's Army, Lee's Fleas Eye $150,000 Kemper

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Arnie's Army and Lee's Fleas

were poised and ready to follow their favorites today. Arnold Palmer and Lee Trevino led a field of 144 into the opening round of the $150,000 Kemper

Open Golf Tournament.

Palmer, who reached the age of 39 Tuesday, ruled a slight favorite, but the $30,000 top prize in the 72-hole tourney at Pleasant Valley Country Club appeared up for grabs in the absence of such stars as Jack Nicklaus, Bill Casper and Gary Player.

Although he has been disappointed in his play in recent weeks, Palmer has solid knowledge of the sprawling 7,230-yard course, one of the longest on the PGA circuit. He finished second to the late Tony Lema in the Carling World here three years ago.

The course will play even longer because of recent rain. However, spacious greens may give the long-hitting pros the trouble. The immense putting surfaces average more than 10,000 square feet, and putts of more than 100 feet are not unusual.

Palmer had an early afternoon starting time. Trevino, the happy-go-lucky U.S. Open champion, and such standouts as Dave Stockton and Tom Weiskopf were set to tee off early. Stockton won the Milwaukee and Cleveland opens this summer, while Weiskopf took the Buick Open.

Other standouts ready to test the par 72 layout included Doug Sanders, Art Wall, Gay Brewer, Ken Still, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Kel Nagle, Bobby Nichols, Tommy Aaron, Bruce Crampton, Mason Rudolph, Al Geiberger, Dow Finsterwald, Marty Fleckman and other members of the pro circuit.

Japanese Horses In International

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Japan, never better than fifth in three previous tries, will be represented by two horses in the $150,000 Washington, D.C., International at Laurel Race Course Nov. 11. John D. Schapiro, Laurel president, announced Wednesday that Tadashi Kiyoi, president of the Japan Racing Association, had notified him that the owners of Takeshiba-O and Hikaru Takai had accepted invitations to appear in the 1½-mile turf race.

Speed Symbol's fifth-place finish last year was the best by a Japanese representative in the International. Ryu Forel was eighth in 1964 and Takamagahara 10th in 1962.

Ake Nilsson Wins

ROME (AP) — Ake Nilsson of Sweden won the javelin event in a triangular meet involving Sweden, Italy, and Romania Wednesday with a throw of 287 feet, 11 inches.

Lou Johnson Single Gives Tribe 1-0 Win Over Twins

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Lou Johnson, who may not be the best hitter who ever played in the major league but has got to be among the coolest, couldn't pass up a chance to do a little harmless bragging.

Sweet Lou, who spent half his career roaming the minor leagues before the Los Angeles Dodgers gave him his big chance, pinch hit for Cleveland Wednesday night. He had two strikes against him because pitcher Vicente Romo had taken two strikes trying to bunt in the 12th inning of a scoreless pitching duel between the Indians and the Minnesota Twins.

Johnson took the first pitch from old Dodger teammate Ron Perranoski a shade low for a ball, then lined a single to left that scored the only run in Cleveland's 10 victory.

"I'm a first-ball hitter, you dig?" Johnson teased. "That's the price you pay for being a good hitter. You can hit one pitch."

Having had his fun, Johnson admitted he might have been called out on the pitch he took for a ball. That's what happened to him, he said, when Manager Leo Durocher sent him up to pinch hit with two strikes on the batter when he was with the Chicago Cubs earlier this season—he struck out.

"The only thing I'm thankful for," Johnson said, "is that I was in this league (American) tonight. In the National League, that was a strike and I was out of there if I took it."

About the strategy of sending up a pinch hitter with only one strike left, Johnson said: "It's a gamble, sure. But if it pays off, you usually win. I did it. It's a challenge."

Dark said he was trying to move the runners on first and second up by getting a bunt from Romo. He didn't get it. "I can't think of a tougher hitter to send up in that situation than Johnson," Indians Manager Alvin Dark said. "He's hard to strike out, and he knows that strike zone."

Jan Stenerud Player Of Week

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Kansas City Chiefs Coach Hank Stram has said that "anywhere from four to six games a season can be decided on the kicking phase."

The Chiefs' 26-21 victory Monday night against the Houston Oilers was one.

For his performance that featured four field goals, Jan Stenerud was named The Associated Press' offensive player of the week. Counting his two extra-point kicks, he provided Kansas City with 14 points.
